Previously registered football and basketball officials have received their renewal application cards for the 1954-55 school year. Approximately eighty officials failed to file their 1953-54 reports on or before the deadline set by the Board of Control for the submitting of reports, and it was necessary to impose a fine on each official who thus failed to comply with Association rules.

National Federation Annual Meeting

The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations was held at North Rim, Arizona, on June 22-26, 1954. Thirty-nine State Association members or affiliated members were represented. Forty-six executive officers or assistant executive officers, 42 State Association board of control officers, and 39 board of control members were in attendance. Total individual attendance was 401.

Kentucky was represented at the meeting by K.H.S.A.A. President Carlos Oakley, Vice-President Russell Williamson, Directors James L. Cobb, Louis Litchfield and Roy G. Eversole, and Assistant Commissioner J. B. Mansfield. President Oakley was one of the presiding officers at a board of control session, held on Wednesday morning, June 23. One of the reports given at this meeting was made by Director Roy G. Eversole, who spoke on "Tournament Finances and Experiences."

Speakers included many of the state executive officers and board of control officers or members. In addition, excellent presentations were made by Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi (Bradley University, Peoria, Illinois); Richard Evans (Lecturer, writer, and nationally known radio M.C. for "The Spoken Word" over KSL at Temple Square); Dr. William Howell (University of Minnesota); Prof. C. E. Deaver (Arizona State College); Ernst Christensen (National Park Ranger) and George Manning (National Association of Secondary School Principals).

Program and entertainment details were ably supervised by committees. Their work was coordinated by the General Planning Committee, made up of H. H. Rose (Chairman), O. D. Ballard, D. F. Stone, and P. C. Stevens.

The Registration Committee, made up of C. C. Thompson (Chairman), P. M. Bethers, Mrs. E. F. Grider, Mrs. H. W. Jennings, Mrs. William Leiter and John W. Stone, served as a clearing house for all activities. Mesdames Grider, Jennings and Leiter were unusually efficient in serving as a combination business office, traveler's aid, information desk, collection agency and troubleshooting committee. Their patience, courtesy and efficiency were outstanding.

Because of the nature of the accommodations and their isolation from centers of population, this meeting involved much preliminary planning and detailed work. All reservations, assignments to class of cabin and collection of all fees for Lodge accommodations and related items had to be made through the Federation office. Prizes, supplies for distribution in the sessions, carnival items and other entertainment features, enrollment material and nearly everything else connected with the meeting had to be shipped two thousand miles and relayed from Cedar City by special arrangement with the Utah Parks System. The staff in the Federation office and in the offices of the Utah and Arizona State Associations supervised these details with a negligible number of omissions or miscalculations.

Presentations or progress reports included the following topics: Non-Athletic Activities, Bringing Eligibility Rules Up-to-Date, Re-evaluation of Athletic Policies, Association Finances, Health Factors in Athletics, Recent Court Cases and Legislation, State Association Building Projects, Expanding the Public Relations Program, Television—Threat or Challenge, Track and Field Committee Report, The Bowling Program, the Health Program, Evolution of a Rules Program, Survey of Bonding and Insurance Program, Junior and Summer Championships, State Association Publications, Basketball Developments, the Baseball Program, Football Meetings Brought Up-to-Date, Tangible Results from Football Activity, Further Perfecting the Football Manual, and a Brush-up on Rules Presentation.

The National Council voted unanimously to accept the application for affiliation by the Alaska High School Activities Association. It was recommended that the Federation Executive Committee authorize a television committee to continue surveys and studies of this important activity and to represent the Federation in any negotiations

Basketball Clinics

Charlie Vettiner, who has conducted K.H.S.A.A. basketball clinics for many years, will be in charge of the 1954-55 rules meetings. All registered basketball officials and those planning to register for the coming season are reminded that clinic attendance is required.

School administrators are urged to make it possible for their coaches and athletic directors to attend the forthcoming series of state and regional clinics. Although the meetings are held primarily for the training of officials, much more can be accomplished in securing uniformity of officiating and improving the relationship between officials and coaches if both groups attend the clinics and receive the same interpretations of the rules. The Commissioner and the Board of Control believe that every basketball coach in Kentucky should attend as many clinics and similar meetings as possible during the forthcoming season.

The dates and sites of the meetings which will be conducted by Mr. Vettiner are as follows:

October 3, Louisville Y. M. C. A., 2:00 P. M. (CST)

October 10, Newport High School, 2:00 P. M. (EST)

Use of Registered Officials

The attention of principals and coaches of K.H.S.A.A. member schools is called to the lists of registered football and basketball officials which appear in this issue of the ATHLETE. The use of registered officials is required under the provisions of Association By-law 22, which says: "Member schools shall use registered officials in all football and basketball games. Failure to comply with this regulation makes the home school liable for suspension." School men should study the current lists, to determine whether or not all officials with whom contracts have been signed have registered this fall. Supplementary lists of officials will appear in subsequent issues of the Magazine. If there is any question about registration, the official should be asked to present his card.

Delegate Assembly

Article IV., Section 2-b, of the K.H.S.A.A. Constitution, provides that members to the Delegate Assembly at the annual meeting shall be elected by the principals of each basketball district on ballots distributed by the Commissioner before October 1 and returned on or before November 15. Delegates serve for a period of one year, beginning January 1 immediately following their election.

Football Examinations

Part II of the National Federation Football Examination for Officials will be given in Kentucky on Monday, October 4. An official who has been registered for at least one year prior to the current season is eligible to take the examination and work for a higher rating. Officials who hold the "Approved" rating in football are required to make a minimum percentage grade of 80 in order to maintain the rating from year to year. Officials who hold the "Certified" rating keep this rating by attending one or more football clinics each year. Eligible officials who wish to take the test should write to the State Office.

Early Season Football Questions

Editor's Note: These rulings do not set aside or modify any rule. They are interpretations on some of the early season situations which have been presented.

1. Play: Have any errors or omissions been discovered in the 1954 football publications?

Ruling: In the RULE BOOK, in article 3-3-3, a reference to fair catch interference has inadvertently been held over from last year and in article 6-4-1 the definition of what is a legal fair catch signal has been inadvertently omitted. A quarter is never extended because of fair catch interference or any other foul by the offensive team. The signal for a fair catch is the same as for the past several years, i.e., the open hand held at arm's length above the head and waved sidewise.

Also, in the CASE BOOK, Play 148 is not correctly worded. Part (a) is meant to be a punt which comes to rest in the kicker's end zone and part (b) a backward pass by A which comes to rest in B's end zone. Play 16 gives the correct statement.

2. Play: Team A takes position with center A1 over the ball and with his hand on it. The team then shifts so that A1 removes his hand from the ball and participates in the shift. Ball is then snapped by A2 who has moved over the ball.

Ruling: This constitutes two shifts and a full second is required after each. Also, the removal of the hand from the ball might be in the nature of a false start if the Official believes it may have been such as to throw B off balance.

3. Play: After time-out for a measurement, when does the clock start?

Ruling: When the ball is snapped. In any situation in which advantage might be gained by the requesting team, the Referee should refuse a request for measurement unless the line-to-gain is so close that the Referee is in doubt.

4. Play: During a legal forward pass which ends behind the line, B1 while on A's side of the line, uses his hands on A2. Is this pass interference?

Ruling: No. It may be legal use of hands by the Defense if he is attempting to get at the ball. If it is holding or is not an attempt to get at the ball, it is illegal use of hands. The distance penalty is the same as for pass interference, i.e., 15 yards but it is not loss of down.

5. Play: Just before the snap, B has only 10 players on the field. Before the ball is snapped, B11 runs on the field. He is in a position to tackle the runner and does so.

Ruling: If this were a player of Team A, the Official would usually consider it as using a substitution to deceive B. 7-2-4 applies to Team A. If the outlined act by B is an infraction it would be because it is done intentionally, and is unsportsmanlike conduct. Unless such act is repeated or is done in such a way as to make it clear that the entry of the substitute is purposely delayed, the Official should not regard it as illegal.

6. Play: On a try for point, all players of B wave their hands in the air to disconcert kicker A1.

Ruling: If this is done before the snap, it could be called unsportsmanlike conduct. Usually the effectiveness of such an act is immediately after the ball has been snapped and it is doubtful whether any Official would call it unsportsmanlike conduct in that case.

7. Play: A1, who has been disqualified, erroneously reenters. He throws a forward pass which is complete for a touchdown.

Ruling: If the infraction is discovered before the beginning of the succeeding down, the infraction is penalized. Since it occurred at the beginning of the down in which the touchdown was scored, the score is nullified because of enforcement of the penalty. If the infraction is not discovered until after the succeeding down has started, (with the snap) the touchdown is not nullified but the penalty should be enforced as part of the down during which discovery is made.

8. Play: While a kick is in flight, A1 or B1 holds. What is the spot of enforcement and is the down replayed?

Ruling: By Federation Code, administration is comparatively simple. Regardless of the kind of kick, it is merely a foul during a loose ball and the basic enforcement spot is at the previous spot. After the penalty, the down is replayed.

Comment: By Collegiate Code, enforcement depends on whether it is a scrimmage-kick or a free-kick. For the latter, penalty is at spot of foul and the down is not replayed since ball is put in play by a snap instead of a free-kick.

9. Play: Legal forward pass goes beyond line where B1 intercepts. B2 was off-side. While B2 is advancing, there is clipping by A1. Are these offsetting fouls and is this fair to B?

Ruling: These are offsetting fouls. As far as equity is concerned, there is a difference of opinion.

10. Play: During the entire game up to the last few minutes, Team A has been operating from the T offense. In the last few minutes, they are inside B's 10. They take position for the T offense but then shift into another formation, after which the ball is snapped. Is this legal or illegal?

Ruling: Merely using an additional shift is not an illegal act. The only way it might be a violation of the rules is to make it a false start which is used for the purpose of drawing the opponent off-side. The defensive team is expected to be on the alert for an additional shift at any time during the game. In the circumstances which are outlined, it is expected that Team A will be cautious about the way they move into the second shift. If it is done with a quick charging motion such as that which is usually used at the time the ball is snapped, it should usually be called a false start. If, however, the team "slides" out of the first position and moves into the new position, there is nothing in the rules to prevent their doing so. Obviously, some judgment on the part of the Official is involved but these comments concerning the method of making the second shift may be of some help in reaching decision on these borderline cases.

11. Play: 1st and 10 on B's 12. Team A scores a touchdown. In the statistics, should the team be credited with a 1st down as well as with a touchdown?

Ruling: It is doubtful whether there is any nation-wide system for recording football data. However, most groups would not credit the team with a 1st down if they score a touchdown.

12. Play: With only a few seconds remaining in the first half, there is a kick-off. To consume the few remaining seconds, K1 intentionally makes a short free-kick. Time expires before the down ends. Since there is no provision in the rules for allowing R to extend the quarter, is this an inequitable situation which should be corrected?

Ruling: Probably no more inequitable than several other similar situations. If the time was that short,

The Flying Dutchman

It is "King" Tater Combs now. Bow low as he offers you premium insurance at bargain prices because you are in the presence of the official crowned "KING" at the Sixth Annual School for Basketball Officials sponsored by the K.H.S.A.A. in Louisville 15 and 16.

"Tater" is the chap everybody likes and likes to kid—and brethern, he can take it. He was crowned with an umbrella hat which will be the talk of "Them thar mountings." The "KING" was selected because he possesses the following qualities: (1) Muscular physique which includes a roll of "lard" around his mid-section, (2) Speed (not on the floor) at getting to the dinner table, (3) Ability to recognize humor in Tom Williams' jokes.

No foolin', besides learning plenty about the art of basketball officiating the Officials, their wives and spectators attending the School for Officials had a lot of fun. Two floor shows, supplied by the Jefferson County Recreation Entertainers, had the audience in "stitches". It was Ernie Chattin's wife who said, "These kids should show all over Kentucky so other counties can see how much supervised recreation means to young people."

Ashland's Ernie and Mrs. Chattin left for a Florida vacation as soon as the school was completed. Both felt an urgent need of Florida's restful paradise after the wedding of their daughter recently to Eastern's Basketball Star, "High-scoring Mulcahy."

Here's lead pipe cinch—The Dutchman can never forget the wonderful treatment accorded him by the sixteen officials and Commissioner Ted Sanford. Ted's assistant, Joe Billy Mansfield, had to forego the school to go to Minnesota with Carlos Oakley to make life miserable for the fish there.

"Jolly John" Heldman, popular president of the Falls Cities Officials Association, opened the fiesta by sounding the keynote that Kentucky's schoolboy officiating is the nation's "Tops", because of the outstanding training program of the K.H.S.A.A. John was followed by the Commissioner and things went into high gear.

This Dutch boy just has to give the "Salute of the Month" to handsome Vic Brizendine who volunteered his services and took countless details off this feeble frame. It was this personable fellow who got us a full page spread of pictures in the Louisville Times, gave away Lucky Strike cigarettes and Roi-Tan cigars by the wholesale lot, and who handled gym arrangements and other necessary chores, which helped make the School the best ever held.

Cooperation was the key to every success. It was Coach "Red" Garrison of Valley supplying the teams for demonstration purposes, Ben Edelen drilling the Officials in proper signalling, and Vince Zachem and Bob Forsythe setting up proper floor procedure. By all means Mrs. Frances Radford, secretary to the Dean, must draw her share of attention for giving up her entire Sunday to arrange the meeting room and handle attendance records.

Officials attended from Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky. The chap from Columbus was greatly impressed. Bernie Shively, University of Kentucky's astute athletic director, was high in his praise of the sessions while Dean Eagle, Sports Editor of the Louisville Times, commented that the program is a great stimulus for better officiating.

You should have been at the gift session when each official received a laugh-provoking gift from the teacher. The first explosion came when Bowling Green's Dero Downing opened his package, then came another big laugh as Shelbyville's Elmo Head saw his gift. Still other laughs came as Lexington's Harry Stephenson, Fort Mitchell's Ed McNabb and Pikeville's Dick Looney got their "Apple" from the teacher. The fellows honored the Dean with a gift certificate, which left the usually loquacious Dutchman speechless.

Did you read the column Dean Eagle wrote in the Louisville Times praising Dr. Bob McLeod of Somerset for his interest in kids and their games in his briar-jumping town? Bob deserves anything good you say about him because he has dedicated his life to unfortunate youngsters. It is safe to say that the officials in our school represent the "Cream of the Crop."

Take it direct from the Dutchman that Rex Alexander, Murray's new college coach, is one of the finest gentlemen of the blue-grass state. We would rather have this fellow's respect and friendship than a million bucks—and we are poor people. Not only does he contribute much by his philosophy, but his influence makes everybody leave feeling that it was good to have been there and to have associated with him.

Larue Sosh, Uniontown; Bennie Bridges, North Middletown; and Walter Combs of Hazard were outstanding in their contributions. It is small wonder that such wonderful spirit exists in Kentucky from the mountains to the Pennyrile with these three serving as "Ambassadors of Good Will."

If you really want to sit in on something different and enjoyable, get an O. K. from Ted to be a spectator at next year's sessions. Kentucky may be a laggard in many ways but it takes the lead in the training of its schoolboy officials. The Dutchman will be looking for you at his regular clinics in October.

tions of the morning game were analyzed, and play set-ups were discussed for the purpose of uniform interpretation.

The School was well attended, with visitors from the Louisville area, other parts of Kentucky, and neighboring states being present.

The services of the sixteen regional representatives will be available to member schools of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association throughout the forthcoming basketball season. These men will conduct schools, clinics, demonstration games and assembly programs at the requests of school administrators and coaches. They will also assist new officials in becoming registered. It is hoped that school men will take advantage of this Association service, which has for its purpose uniformity in officiating and the teaching of the rules of the game to all those who can profit by such instruction.

Memorandum Concerning Polio

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has issued recently a memorandum to high school coaches in the nation concerning polio prevention. The following facts concerning polio, given by the National Foundation, are very timely:

Polio makes its appearance in a few athletic teams each Fall. Here is up-to-the-minute information on polio prevention through Gamma Globulin, vaccine, and hygienic precautions.

Developments in the use of Gamma Globulin are of special interest to coaches. As you know, it is derived from human blood serum and when used under appropriate conditions confers passive protection against paralytic poliomyelitis for about five weeks. This year, it is available in greater supply for use in time of epidemic. It is recommended for the inoculation of groups larger than the family, such as camps, schools and neighborhoods. The method of using Gamma Globulin will be entirely at the discretion of each State Public Health Officer. If a case of polio appears in your team, communicate immediately with your team physician and have him get in touch with your local or State Health Officer.

Over 600,000 school children participated this Spring in extensive field trials of a polio vaccine. Scientists have high hopes that this vaccine will prove effective but the results of the tests will not be known until mid-Winter. No vaccine is available for use outside these special studies.

Precautions against contracting the disease are still important:

1. Wash hands thoroughly before eating and after using the toilet.

2. Persons having symptoms which may indicate polio should be put to bed promptly and a doctor should be called. These symptoms are: headache, fever, sore-throat, upset stomach, stiff neck or back.

3. Avoid chilling. It seems to lower resistance to the virus.

4. Avoid extreme or unnecessary fatigue.

School For Officials

The sixth annual School for Basketball Officials was held on August 15-16 at the Watterson Hotel and the St. Xavier High School gymnasium, Louisville. Charlie Vetter, veteran clinic director, was in charge of the school.

The sixteen officials and the regions which they represented were: Rex Alexander, Region 1; Vincent Zachem, Region 2; LaRue Sosh, Region 3; Bob Forsythe, Region 4; Dero Downing, Region 5; Tom Williams, Region 6; Benny Edelen, Region 7; Elmo Head, Region 8; Edgar McNabb, Region 9; Bennie Bridges, Region 10; Harry Stephenson, Region 11; Robert McLeod, Region 12; Travis Combs, Region 13; Walter Combs, Region 14; Dick Looney, Region 15; and Ernie Chattin, Region 16.

Through the cooperation of Coach Garland Garrison, members of the Valley High School basketball team were used in the demonstration game. Vic Brizendine of the Falls' Cities Basketball Officials Association was in charge of arrangements for the four sessions. The Jefferson County Recreation Entertainers appeared twice before the group of officials and visitors, and were enjoyed thoroughly.

The first session of the School, which was held on the afternoon of August 15, was given over to Rules Study and Interpretation. The second session, which followed dinner, had as its principal topic "How to Teach Officials Coming to your Sixteen Regional Schools." On the morning of August 16, a demonstration game was played at the St. Xavier gymnasium, with all of the sixteen regional representatives having an opportunity to work for a short period of time. In the Monday afternoon session, play situa-

Scientific study has revealed that heavy exertion in the early stages of the disease has resulted in more severe and extensive paralysis.

The National Foundation is deeply appreciative of the help which coaches all over the country have given in the fight against polio.

NATIONAL FEDERATION MEETING

which involve all of the states or a group of states. Exploratory surveys and studies by a non-athletic committee were approved. The treasurer's report was approved with commendation to Treasurer and Executive Committee for their method of handling the Federation funds. Election of Executive Committee members for Sections 2, 4, and 6 was held. For Section 2, Herman F. Keller (Bosse High School, Evansville, Indiana) was elected for a term of three years. Prior to the election, President C. A. Semler had announced that he would not consider reelection because of his decision to reduce the number of his activities in various state and national groups. For Section 4, Fred L. Biesler (Glenbard Township High School, Glen Ellyn, Illinois) was elected for a term of three years. For Section 6, L. T. Havig (Superintendent of Schools, Williston, North Dakota) was elected for a term of three years.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee, held on June 26, S. F. Burke, Executive Secretary-Treasurer of the Georgia High School Association, was nominated and elected President by unanimous vote. C. A. Semlar, retiring President, who was presiding, turned the Chair over to Mr. Burke with appropriate comment and congratulations. Since Mr. Burke's elevation to the presidency left the position of Vice-President open, he called for nominations for this office. Paul C. Stevens was nominated and unanimously elected (Note: Both men received appropriate recognition when they returned home after the meeting. A delegation of schoolmen and state officials met the Georgia delegation at the Georgia-Alabama state line and escorted them to Thomaston, where the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations honored the new President with an impressive ceremony on the courthouse square. In commenting on the occasion, President Burke summed up the situation by the statement, "The whole thing makes a person feel rather humble.").

A sincere expression of appreciation was extended to Frank Douma and C. C. Thompson, who, because of a rotation policy in their respective sections, had ended their terms of office as Executive Committee members. Appropriate service medals were presented. The Committee also confirmed the many statements of appreciation which had been expressed throughout the meeting for the fine services which had been rendered by C. A. Semler during his ten years as President of the Federation and presiding officer at all of the meeting sessions during that period.

i.e., while the ball was going 7 yards and being declared dead, Team K could get the same result by kicking off down the field and out-of-bounds. There are several ways in which K could kill the remaining few seconds. They could kick the ball just enough to avoid being a short kick and then hold every opponent in sight. If it is a glaring case of intent to delay, the Official always has authority to order the clock to remain stopped to avoid this circumvention of the rules.

13. Play: How does the 1954 edition of the Football Official's Manual differ from previous editions?

Ruling: Except for improvements in clarity and a few corrections of inadvertent minor errors in statement, the only significant modification is in the signalling of a touchdown. Last year, Officials other than the Referee, delayed their signals. This year, any Official who sees the ball go over, signals it immediately.

14. Play: Are there any changes in the types of signal used by Football Officials?

Ruling: No. The signals are the same as for 1953. There was some sentiment for having only one signal for illegal use of hands by either Offense or Defense since each now carries a 15-yard penalty. This will be studied for possible action for 1955.

15. Play: Where and when will the 1955 meeting of the National Federation Football Committee be held?

Ruling: At New Orleans, Louisiana, between January 6 and 9, 1955.

16. Comment: In Play 4 on page 4 of the CASE BOOK, the occurrence is on the last (instead of 1st) play of the half.

17. Play: When may the snapper move his foot?

Ruling: He has the same rights as any other player and may move after the snap motion has started. Since he is the only player who knows the exact time this motion will be started, he may have a tendency to move his foot or body before the hand motion. This item is in article 7 of Rule 7-2 instead of in 7-1-3 to give the Official ample authority to penalize movement which anticipates the snap.

The Kentucky High School Coaches Charity Association

Annual All-Star Football and Basketball Games

I. ALL-STAR RULES APPLYING TO BOTH FOOTBALL AND BASKETBALL GAMES

A. THE GAME

1. The Association shall sponsor all-star football and basketball games to be played between squads representing West Kentucky and East Kentucky at Lexington each August.

2. These games shall be played on a date approximately two weeks prior to Labor Day. The exact date, each year, shall be determined by the Executive Committee and the University of Kentucky Athletic Association.

3. The Basketball game shall be played at 6:00 P. M. Central Standard Time, and the football game shall be played at 8:30 Central Standard Time.

B. PURPOSE OF THE GAME

1. The purpose of the games is to raise funds with which to help schools and parents pay medical expenses of players who were severely injured while playing or practicing with their high school squad. This help shall be reserved for cases that require long expensive medical treatment.

2. The Executive Committee may, at its discretion, assist with the funeral expenses in cases where an athlete is killed while playing or practicing any sport.

3. The Committee may assist any member coach who has been injured or is sick and has been off his job without pay for a long period.

4. Coaches are expected to report all needy cases to the Secretary, but the Executive Committee shall be the sole judge of merits of each case. They shall set the amount to be paid and shall decide the length of time such assistance shall continue.

C. FUNDS

1. A checking account shall be established and all bills shall be paid by check.

2. All expenses of promotion shall be paid each year before any fund may be distributed.

3. A savings account shall be established and all profits on the games shall go to this fund until it becomes large enough to pay the expenses of promoting the games for one year. This fund ($7,500.00) shall remain on interest but so that it may be withdrawn when the Association may need all or part of it to pay for any loss that might come because of bad weather.

4. After the expenses have been paid each year and the full amount of reserve has been set aside, a third account shall be established. This shall be the Charity Fund. The amount on deposit in this account as of March 1st of each year shall be the determining factor in deciding how much money may be expended in the coming fiscal year.

5. Not more than 50% of the amount on hand in the Charity Fund on March 1st may be expended in any fiscal year until the fund has a balance of $25,000.00 after all payments have been made for that year.

6. After that amount has accumulated the committee may spend the interest on the $25,000.00 plus all money accumulated above that figure.

7. In case an expendable balance is left over, it shall be added to the amount available for expenditure the following year.

D. PLAYERS' ELIGIBILITY

1. Any player to be eligible for these games shall have played high school football or basketball during the past season and he shall have received a high school diploma before the start of practice for the games.

2. If he is elected to play in both the football and basketball games, he must decide which game he will play in. He may not play in both.

E. COACHES' ELIGIBILITY

1. Only member head coaches of Kentucky high schools who cast a ballot for the selection of players may serve as a coach of either game.

2. Any man who has served as HEAD coach of an All-Star team shall be ineligible to serve again until five years have elapsed.

F. VOTERS' ELIGIBILITY

1. Member head coaches only may vote for players and coaches. A nonmember coach may send his dues with his nominations or ballot and become eligible.

2. Members must vote for players and coaches from their own side of the State.

G. DUTIES OF ALL-STAR HEAD COACHES

1. The coach shall receive from the manager the final list of his players. He shall get in touch with these players. He shall be responsible for the players getting to Lexington on time and for all tactics employed by his players.

2. In case less than a full squad of players reports at Lexington, the head coach and the manager shall select a player or players to bring his squad up to full strength. After a player has reported for practice, he may not be replaced regardless of what happens to him.

3. Coaches shall be responsible for all discipline of their squad members from Sunday meeting prior to the game until they leave Sunday after the game.

4. Coaches shall cooperate with each other in deciding the place of practice, maximum length of practice periods and other technical points relative to practice and the game.

5. Coaches shall cooperate with the manager at all times in the promotion of the games.

6. The Executive Committee is empowered to relieve a coach from his job at All-Star games for failure to carry out his duties in connection with the coaching of an All-Star team.

H. CHECKING-IN TIME AT LEXINGTON

1. Players and coaches shall report at the Coliseum at 1:30 P. M. Central Standard Time, Sunday prior to the games.

2. They shall check out not later than Sunday morning after the games.

I. EXPENSES FOR INDIVIDUALS

1. Before game night, the secretary shall refund each individual as follows: Four cents per mile from the player's home to Lexington will be allowed for transportation. Necessary meals and lodging will be also paid, both going and coming.

2. Lodging and meals will be furnished in Lexington starting Sunday night before the games and ending Sunday morning after the games.

3. Coaches and players shall be furnished the same lodging, meals, transportation, awards, and entertainment.

J. UNIFORMS

1. All players and coaches shall furnish their own game and practice uniforms except game jerseys and game pants. They will be furnished by the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

K. AWARDS

1. Some suitable award shall be given each player and coach.

2. The Executive Committee shall decide what to give and how much it is to cost. The details shall be arranged by the manager.

L. SPECIAL PASSES

1. Necessary passes shall be issued by the manager to the working press, radio, and television workers and special University personnel.

M. TICKETS

1. All admission tickets shall cost $1.25 each.

3. There will not be any seats reserved for the All-Star football games.

4. Members will be admitted to All-Star games upon presentation of membership cards at the game.

II. ALL-STAR RULES APPLYING ONLY TO FOOTBALL

A. DIVISION OF STATE

Manual, St. Xavier, Shawnee, Henry Clay and all schools of Campbell County have been placed in the East.

4. All other schools are obviously on their side because of their positions on the map.

5. SIX-MAN TEAMS

a. Six-man football teams have been divided so that each side has approximately equal numbers and strength.

b. Austin-Tracy, Caverna, Hiseville, Park City, Shepherdsville, and Temple Hill have been placed in the West.

c. Burgin, Lebanon Junction, Perryville, Ormsby Village, Munfordville, Walton-Verona, have been placed in the East.

D. METHOD OF PICKING PLAYERS

1. On or before November 15, the manager shall mail a letter to each head football coach and ask him to nominate a maximum of two players from his own squad. (Coaches should not nominate a boy unless he is good enough to play in this game. He should nominate the boy for a position that he plays best and has played most of the season.) If the coach nominates more than two players, the manager shall mark off all names from that school except the top two.

2. The coach shall send his nominations to the manager not later than December 1.

3. Not later than December 10 the manager shall send each head coach the following forms:

- a. A list of all nominees and their schools, also positions.
- b. A list of schools for each side and their head coaches, with former head coaches who are ineligible so indicated.
- c. A ballot so ruled that the voter may vote for two full teams and two coaches.

4. Coaches should vote for two full teams from the nominee list only. Votes for unlisted players will not be counted. Votes for players not listed correctly according to position shall not be counted. Coaches shall list on the ballot all players in order of their preference. 5. Coaches shall return their ballots to the manager not later than January 10.

6. The manager shall tabulate the votes and call a meeting of the Executive Committee and the newly elected head coaches not later than the week end nearest January 25.

7. The manager shall submit a list of all the nominees with a summation of their votes.

8. From that list the committee shall name four ends, four tackles, four guards, two centers, and eight backs. These boys must be the players with the most points for their position. In case of a tie vote the head coach (if present) shall decide the man he wants. If he is not present the committee shall pick the players.

9. The head coach shall pick three players from his side of the State for his squad. They may be any eligible player, nominated or not. However no more than two men from one school may play.

10. A committee of three, selected by the president, shall pick three players for each squad. They may pick any eligible player from their respective sides of the State. However the committee shall observe the two-man rule also.

E. SELECTION OF COACHES

1. Member coaches may vote for two men for head coach of their respective squads. They shall list these men in order of their preference. First man shall receive two points and the second man shall receive one point.

2. Member coaches may vote only for coaches from their respective section of the State.

3. The man with the most points in his half of the State shall be declared the head coach. He shall be paid $200.00.

4. The man with the second most points on each side shall be declared the first assistant coach. He shall be paid $100.00.

5. In case of tie points the executive committee shall break the tie by tossing a coin.

6. Each head coach shall be allowed to pick a second assistant coach. He shall be paid $100.00. This second assistant must be a head coach from some school in the All-Star head coach's half of the State. He may come from any school in that half of the State.

7. If a head coach fails to appoint his second assistant before March 1, he shall lose this privilege and the manager shall name the third high man on the list as second assistant coach.

Community Recreation at Vine Grove

By Coach Chet Redmon

The organization and operation of a recreation program in a consolidated school district is a tremendous challenge. The people of the Vine Grove school district have accepted this challenge and are providing for their community a recreation program adapted to their needs and desires.

The growth of this program has been observed with great interest and appreciation. From a meager beginning in 1949, the status has changed to a large operation for this area, involving a budget of some thirty-five hundred dollars for the summer of 1954.

How did the program begin? How is it financed? How is it supervised? What activities are provided? How is the time for the activities decided and what activities are likely to be most desirable? How does the school and community benefit from the program? What are the plans for the future? In an effort to analyze the Vine Grove program or any community-type program, these and many other questions are presented for solution.

As background for the beginning of any community planning, such an enterprise must look at factors such as the distribution of the population, the economic and social status of the community and its people, and other related items. Some things are common to most areas while others are peculiar to a particular community.

The Vine Grove school district, one of six districts in the Hardin County School System, is approximately ten miles wide and twenty-five miles long, presenting a total area of two-hundred fifty square miles. Fortunately, for the success of the Vine Grove program, the people of this area are not distributed evenly throughout this vast district, but are congregated primarily in three or four smaller communities within the larger community. This has been a very important factor in scheduling most activities at night when the greatest number of people could be served.

Still another factor has been very instrumental in the planning of the Vine Grove program. The proximity of this Hardin County community to the Fort Knox Military Reservation is responsible for a rather unusual social and economic situation. The large number of military personnel in the area has brought a cosmopolitan population to the community. People from many places, not only in the United States but from foreign countries as well, many of them accustomed to recreation opportunities, have contributed much to the Vine Grove program mainly through their participation. Many civilians in the area are employed on the reservation and not a small number of them supplement their income with part-time farming. The balance of the people in the community are farmers, small business owners, or employees of these businesses.

These points have been mentioned to illustrate the idea of characteristics common to communities and those peculiar to a particular area.

Many scoffers at the idea of recreation for rural areas advance the idea that farmers and their families do not readily accept or engage in recreation activities. Observation at Vine Grove has not proved this to be true. The many developments in recent years of new agricultural equipment and methods have given farm families more leisure time than they have ever before enjoyed. They make good use of this leisure at Vine Grove, and it hardly seems logical to presume that farmers in other areas are any different. If Vine Grove has achieved any measure of success whatsoever in its program, it has been because every effort has been made to gear the program to the time available and to the preferred activities of the people.

Much of the credit for the creation and development of the Vine Grove program must be given to the principal of Vine Grove School, James T. Alton. Mr. Alton, early in his administration at Vine Grove, felt the need for a summer program based on providing wholesome activity as a supplement to the community school program. Unlike school districts in other areas of the country, Vine Grove could not petition a fiscal court or other government institutions for financial assistance in organizing a recreation program. Kentucky, of course, had a commission recently for aiding in such organization but it was abolished at the end of a recent governor's term in office. Mr. Alton, a man of determination and unusual foresight, was extremely helpful when he was instrumental in locating a National Youth Administration project in Vine Grove. When the NYA was disbanded in the early 1940's, Vine Grove was given an opportunity to purchase the permanent buildings and much of the equipment left behind. Mr. Alton and others in the community led the people of the community to acquire this project, and the present Vine Grove Community Park is built around the former NYA project. Approximately eight thousand dollars have been spent in grading and drainage around this area in providing for a level play field.

Probably the foremost building in the old NYA project is the one now designated as the Vine Grove Community Recreation Building. A former shop building, this structure is 125' x 75', eighteen feet of the width having been added in 1951 at a cost of two thousand dollars. Radiant type heating was installed in the building in 1952 at a cost of more than three thousand dollars, and in the Spring of 1954 a hardwood floor covering seventy-five per cent of the building's vast area was laid at a cost of three thousand dollars. Not only does this build-

The Cross Country Championship

The second official State High School Cross Country Championship will be held at the University of Kentucky over the two mile Picadome Golf Course on Saturday morning, November 13, at 11:00. The meet is sanctioned by the K.H.S.A.A., and the Association will furnish trophies for the winning team and runner-up and individual medals for the first ten places.

The Spiked Shoe Society at the University will stage the event, as it has done in recent years. All K.H.S.A.A. member schools are invited to compete. Their teams may be composed of any number of competitors, but only the first five runners (as designated before the race) will count on the team score.

Some seventy-five boys took part in the 1953 Cross Country, which was won by the Breckinridge County High School. The team representing Valley High School placed second, and the Fern Creek High School team was third. The individual champion was Joe Oldendick of Bellevue High School, whose time was 13:44. Scheler of Valley was second with the time of 13:48, and Ball of Breckinridge County was third with 14:05.

Principals planning on entering teams in the 1954 Cross Country should send their entries to Dr. Don Cash Seaton, Alumni Gym, University of Kentucky, Lexington, on or before November 6. Teams will dress in the Coliseum. Team members and their coaches will be guests of the University for the Memphis State game at 2:00 P. M.

New Football Film

Prints of the new film, BETTER FOOTBALL, have been rented by the K.H.S.A.A. and have been placed on loan with the Department of Extension at the University of Kentucky. The film was produced by the Official Sports Film Service, under the sanction and recommendation of the National Federation, and was made possible by two good friends of school athletics, General Mills and Wilson Sporting Goods Company.

BETTER FOOTBALL includes game situations and their relation to the rules. Movie and TV actor Bill Frawley is the coach of a team which learns "the hard way" why knowledge of the rules is important. The film is instructional for coaches, officials and players, and has enough entertainment value for school assemblies and service clubs. In the film are play situations, some in slow motion, some animated, illustrating football rules. There are plays involving sideline, end-line, goal line and scrimmage line; illegal participation; eligible pass receivers; relation of force to safety and touchback; action during snap; rights and limitations during pass; protection for passer, kicker and place kick holder; legal and illegal use of hands; distinction between muff and fumble; and penalty enforcement. The film is cleared for television.

Clinics for Cheerleaders

The State Y.M.C.A. of Kentucky is conducting four Youth Days and Cheerleaders Clinics this fall. On October 2 the second annual meeting was held at Western Kentucky State College. On October 9 the third annual meeting at Kentucky State College. The University of Kentucky will be the scene of the fourth annual clinic for the Central Kentucky area on October 30, and the second annual meeting will be held at Morehead State College on November 13.

The University of Kentucky program will have a panel for cheerleaders on "Building Better Sportsmanship in High School Athletics." On the panel will be U.K. Football Coach Blanton Collier, State Superintendent Wendell Butler, Commissioner Ted Sanford, Capt. Billy Evans of the University basketball team, and a well known game official. Two groups of cheerleaders will demonstrate good and bad cheers, under the direction of Mrs. Stella Gilb. There will also be a special program for majorettes. The high school cheerleaders will join college cheerleaders in leading cheers before the Kentucky-Villanova football game, and the majorettes will also perform on the field.

Mr. A. D. Litchfield, Secretary of the State Y.M.C.A. is sending out a special letter to high school principals about these events. This fine program of the state organization has the full approval of the K.H.S.A.A., and it is hoped that high school principals will make it possible for their cheerleaders and sponsors to attend one of the meetings.

The Flying Dutchman

We're packing now for that thirteenth basketball clinic trip over Kentucky. It's an annual thrill to get ready for the meetings with all of you fellows again.

Your Dutch friend can't help reminiscing a bit as he considers the first tour in 1942 when it was necessary to start out with insufficient gasoline ration coupons. It seems funny now as we recall that in that year we were towed three different times for a total of more than two hundred miles, and that on one occasion the old Chevrolet was driven into a huge moving van for a free lift from Cincinnati to Aberdeen, Ohio.

Commissioner "Ted" never expected to see the Dutchman wind up that historic first year by showing up on time for the final clinic at Henderson. It was then that the Commissioner became so elated as the "Chevy" pulled up in front of Henderson's Barret High School that he proclaimed the Dutchman "Dean of Officials" for completing this trip.

Now in 1954 we start out in deluxe fashion with plenty of gasoline available, eager anticipation of fun ahead, and a dogged determination to locate some of those fine mountain-grown country hams to bring back. It seems harder to locate those hams than it was to get across the State in 1942 without gasoline.

Bring news items and information on game guys, people who should be recognized as Corn Cob Pipe winners, and communities which should receive citations for promoting good public relations in their areas to the clinics.

We remind everybody that the Flying Dutchman has three aims in writing his copy for the Athlete each month: (No. 1) The promotion of sportsmanship between Kentucky Communities, (No. 2) recognition and encouragement of young men who are overcoming physical handicaps to enjoy sports like other young people, (No. 3) recognition of people by the Corn Cob Pipe of Honor Award for performing services just to help others.

In connection with the promotion of good sportsmanship between communities, we commend Mr. George D. Wheeler, associate state secretary of the Y.M.C.A., for his activities in setting up four Cheerleaders Clinics, at Bowling Green on October 2, at Kentucky State College on October 9, at University of Kentucky on October 30, and at Morehead College on November 13. Cheerleaders many times control the actions of over-enthusiastic crowds at athletic contests.

On occasions all of us have noticed situations which might have reflected badly on the sportsmanship of Kentucky had not the Cheerleaders held up their hands to quiet rabid crowds.

Besides the Flying Dutchman the Bowling Green Clinic Panel will be composed of Forest Able, a guard of Western's basketball team; Carlos Oakley, president of the K.H.S.A.A. Board of Control; H. B. Gray, principal of Bowling Green High School; Bob Forsythe, Superintendent of Muhlenberg County Schools; and A. D. Litchfield, state secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Hundreds of Cheerleaders will be reached at the clinics and much is bound to come from such meetings.

Now concerning the second aim of the Flying Dutchman in the recognition of game guys, we pause to salute Coach Junie Jones of Louisville's Atherton High School for the interest he has taken in James "Cap" Caudill. "Cap" Caudill is the first Game Guy to be recognized this season, and is truly an example for other young men suffering from physical handicaps to pattern after. Let's look over the accomplishments of this fighter whose right arm is deformed, and is only three quarters its full length. He has played football, winning his J. V. letter. He pitched a no-hitter in baseball while winning four games and losing none, won his varsity football letter in 1953 as a halfback and his baseball letter the same year as a pitcher, and in 1954 he played on the varsity baseball team. Besides all of these athletic accomplishments he is a "terrific student."

A Flying Dutchman Lion Heart lapel button has been sent to Jimmie, in recognition of his victories, and he is being placed on the list of young men to be considered for the Game Guy Plaque of 1954-55.

About that third aim of recognizing people doing things unselfishly for the sheer joy of making others happy, the salute of this month must go to Dunnville's Leland Rubards. Travel Kentucky and you'll fail to find anybody more interested in basketball officiating and helping young officials over the humps. For his unselfish efforts over the years and for his civic contributions to his community a "Little Stinker" is now on its way to Dunnville. Incidentally this chap, Rubards, is one of the best corn growers of the commonwealth—try some of his roasting ears.

No foolin', we are looking forward to driving those beautiful Kentucky Mountains with all of the colorful autumn hues as we head out on another historic clinic excursion. Don't forget those mountain hams, Tater and Dick!

Early Season Football Questions — Installment 2

Editor's Note: These rulings do not set aside or modify any rule. They are interpretations on some of the early season situations which have been presented.

18. Play: After A1 scores a touchdown, A2 commits a personal foul. During the try-for-point, B1 is offside and : (a) the try is successful; or (b) the try is not successful. Are these treated as a double foul?

Ruling: Yes for (a). No for (b).

19. Play: On 3rd down, a fumble by A1 is recovered by B1 after which he throws a backward pass which is intercepted by A2. A2 attempts a backward pass which goes forward and is incomplete. What is the number of the next down and how many yards-to-gain?

Ruling: 1st down for A with 10 to gain (see 5-2-4a). The line-to-gain is not established until after the 5-yard penalty is enforced. This is the only type of illegal forward pass which does not involve a loss of down penalty.

20. Play: Does the new rule which requires each A player to momentarily take a position within 15 yards of the snap prohibit spread plays?

Ruling: No. Any player may move into an area within about 15 yards of the snap and then take any legal position. Under the ordinary circumstances, participation in the huddle satisfies this requirement. From the usual huddle, players may move to spread positions. If they do not participate in the huddle, each player must move into the area as outlined but he may then move to a spread position.

21. Play: On anticipated try for field goal, A1 has his knee on the ground when he receives the snap. When he attempts to place the ball, he fumbles. Who may recover and advance?

Ruling: If A1 had possession with a knee on the ground and there was no kick, the ball became retroactively dead at the time of possession. It is A's ball at that spot. See parenthetical statement at end of item (a) of 4-2-2.

Comment: Of course if A1 muffed the snap without having had possession, then the ball is alive and any player may recover and advance as for any backward pass.

22. Play: A team has traditionally used a jersey with a navy blue background and 1/2 inch white stripes about 2 inches apart over the entire sleeve. Is this in conflict with rule 1-5-3f?

Ruling: Since such jersey was designed before the use of the striped ball, it would not seem that there was any intention of simulating ball color and design. Also, the background color and arrangement of stripes are such that it is doubtful whether an arm would look like a ball. Under the circumstances, the jersey should not be ruled illegal. The effect should be carefully studied by neutrals who will report at the end of the season to guide the proper rules group in possible action toward more specific standards as to color and design.

23. Play: Is it permissible to lengthen the intermission between halves?

Ruling: Every possible effort should be made to hold this intermission to the prescribed 18 minutes. The Federation Code provides 3 extra minutes beyond the customary 15 minutes. This is enough. Even the intricate movements of some of the college and professional bands are kept within the 15 minutes. No high school group should use more. If necessary, some of the activities can be performed before the game. School officials and game officials are urged to get the second half started in accordance with the prescribed schedule.

24. Play: Are race and mouth protectors legal?

Ruling: The smooth plastic-type face guard or the type of rubber guard which is worn in the mouth is legal and reasonable use of these is urged by the National Football Committee. For the protector which is worn in the mouth, good sanitation practices should be followed and the items should be kept clean and disinfected when not in use. The wire cage-type face guard may not be legally used unless all parts are covered with soft rubber. When so covered, they may be used to protect an actual injury but not unless such injury is present.

25. Play: Who is responsible for maintaining order among spectators at a game?

Ruling: While the visiting school is expected to provide reasonable control over its own group, the greater responsibility lies with the home management. It is essential that adequate protection against any roughness or unsportsmanlike demonstration be provided in the form of a police detail or similar agency.

26. Play: Who is responsible for injuries which are caused by defective football shoe cleats?

Ruling: The officials are authorized to stop the game for correction of defective equipment but the greater responsibility lies with the wearer of the shoe and with his coach and team manager. If players walk on concrete or other hard surface to reach the game or the dressing room, the cleats may develop nicks or burrs with cutting edges. The player, coach and manager should carefully examine all cleats before the start of any period.

27. Play: If a team shifts more than once, must they pause for a full second after each shift?

Ruling: As far as the shift rule is concerned, the one second is required only after the last shift. However, certain situations may result in a false start when successive rapid shifts are made. The penalty for false start is the same as for the illegal shift, i.e., loss of 5.

28. Play: Team A moves to position and center A1 has his hands on the ball. He then removes his hands from the ball: (a) to shift to another position so that A2 may snap the ball; or (b) to go back into the huddle to check signals. Is this an infraction?

Ruling: The rules state that no player other than the snapper may touch the ball (7-1-1). If the rule is followed literally, it is an infraction in (a). In (b) it is not an infraction unless the time limit is exceeded.

Physical Fitness Tests

Mr. Daniel J. Ferris, Secretary-Treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, has advised the State Office that Physical Fitness and Proficiency Tests are available to interested high school administrators at no cost. In a letter, addressed to state high school executive officers, Mr. Ferris says:

"Prompted by an enthusiastic response on the part of high school physical education teachers to administer our A.A.U. Physical Fitness and Proficiency Tests, we are of the opinion that many administrators in your State High School Athletic Association would be similarly interested. These tests were adopted in 1943, and have been increasing in interest each year. . . . We are aware that the primary function of your association is to conduct a program of inter-scholastic competitive athletics, yet there are many students, both boys and girls, who might have a desire to earn A.A.U. Physical Fitness certificates by meeting our carefully prepared standards. . . . We would appreciate your consideration of this program on a state-wide basis and, if it meets with your approval, would be grateful for the inclusion in one of your periodical bulletins of a notice to the effect that the test sheets are available without cost to all interested high schools. Prompt attention will be given all inquiries directed to our office at Suite 3904, Woolworth Building, 233 Broadway, New York 7, New York."

Athletic Director Honored

The Bellevue High School Faculty entertained with a surprise dinner Tuesday, May 25, honoring John E. Schaar, teacher and athletic director of Bellevue High School, who is completing his thirtieth year as a member of that faculty.

Mr. Schaar, who came to Bellevue High as a teacher and coach, in September of 1924, graduated from State Normal School, Whitewater Falls, Wisconsin. He became the first regularly employed coach of football and basketball, and started Bellevue High on a long climb to a recognized spot, near the top in Kentucky High School athletics.

Mr. Schaar also took over the coaching of the baseball team in about 1927, and introduced and became coach of the high school track team around 1930. His team and his ability are best characterized by the statement in the 1927 yearbook, published by the students. They were: "Without the splendid character and ability of our coach, Bellevue High School would have fallen far below par. We hope he stays with us a long time."

Coach Schaar carried the entire coaching load in all four major sports until about 1932, when the school faculty was enlarged, and he relinquished his duties as head coach to take over the office of athletic director, which he still holds, along with his present position as Assistant Principal. Schaar continued to assist with the active coaching, and directs one of the largest sports programs of any Northern Kentucky school.

In Schaar's long association with athletics in northern Kentucky, the finest tribute comes from the other school men who have coached against his squads, worked with him, and come to know and recognize his abilities.

He has served the Kentucky High School Athletic Association as timer in the State Basketball Tournament for a great number of years. He has also been the director of the regional track meets, and conference track meets. He assists with the State Track Meet each year.

Locally Mr. Schaar has been honored each year, since the start of the Little Six Conference in 1940, with the position as secretary, and at present he is secretary of the Northern Kentucky Conference. He assigns officials for all the Conference schools in both football and basketball.

In commemoration of this fine contribution to the youth of Bellevue and to the school, the faculty presented Mr. Schaar with a trophy, suitably engraved, consisting of a figure of a coach kneeling, with a representative of each of the four major sports, with which he was associated as a head coach during his coaching career.

The surprise dinner was attended by members of the faculty and their wives and guests, members of the Board of Education, Superintendent C. S. Dale and guests.

Good Idea

At the close of the 1953 football season, a K.H.S.A.A. registered official, in a letter to the Commissioner, made a suggestion which has some merit. He thinks that the home team should have an adult available to assist the yardage line carriers, and that this person could carry the downs marker. Many schools are probably already using adults for this important position. High school students or young graduates still in their teens are many times quite excitable and in some instances extremely partisan. There are exceptions to all rules, of course, but an adult under ordinary conditions would do this particular job better than a youngster.

Basketball Scouting Techniques

While attending the University of Kentucky as a graduate student, William L. Kruse wrote a paper as a class project on basketball scouting as conducted by the University of Kentucky. The material in the paper is very interesting. Persons desiring copies of Mr. Kruse's study may write to Professor Maurice A. Clay, Department of Physical Education, University of Kentucky. A subsequent issue of the Athlete will carry an abstract of a thesis written by Mr. Kruse on the subject, "The Status of Health and Physical Education in the Secondary Schools of Kentucky (1953-1954)."

A Kentucky Official, No Doubt!

By Gordon Moore, C-J Sports Writer

The Basketball Official is often accused of many things, and with the current cage season just around the corner, he will be subject to many more. To the unheralded workers we dedicate the following:

If he's brand new at officiating, he lacks experience.

If he's been officiating all his life, he's in a rut.

If he knows the rules, he's studied all his life.

If he's never read the rule book, he's consulted an oculist.

If he changes shirts between games, he's trying to be a fashion plate.

If he thinks about the boos and cheers, he's a bum.

If he seldom admits a mistake, he's arrogant.

If he ever admits a mistake, he ought to go back to digging ditches.

If he plants an occasional gesture in his action, he's a comedian.

If he never condescends to the rule book, he's duty dull.

If he goes to clinics with regularity, he's a hypocrite.

If he shies at lectures, he's a heathen.

If he hands out plenty of information, he has no standards.

If he hands out several decisions, he's a joker.

If he uses signals, he's unoriginal.

If he gets along without signals, he's a mumbler.

If he sticks to his specialty, he's got a one-track mind.

If he turns to the crowd, he's a show-off.

If he can't identify blocking and charging, he isn't human.

If he listens to the roars of the crowds, he's illiterate.

If he works at another job, he's greedy.

If he does nothing else, he's a sucker.

If he's young, he needs more seasoning.

If he's old, he's seen better days.

If he gets his name in the newspaper, he's publicity mad.

If he never appears in public prints, he's so much deadwood.

If he's on good terms with the coaches, he's a sycophant.

If he doesn't overflow the mails to the principal, HE DOESN'T GET ANY GAMES.

K.H.S.A.A. Films

During the school year 1953-54, the Association made three films of its state events, which are now on loan with the Department of University Extension, University of Kentucky. These films are as follows:

NEWPORT vs. INEZ (finals)

This is the final game of the 1954 State Basketball Tournament, in which Inez defeated Newport by the score of 63-55. The sparkling play of Newport's Redmon, and Inez's Cassady and Triplett, is the highlight of the film. The three players were selected as members of the All-State team.

1954 STATE TRACK MEET

Some of the qualifying heats and all of the final events are shown in this film. The winner of each field event was filmed in action. Each race is shown in its entirety from one angle, and the finish shown again from the second angle. Lafayette won the title for the second consecutive year.

COMMUNITY RECREATION

ing provide much in the way of recreation, it has been a very welcome supplement to the facilities of the school in times of inclement weather when outdoor facilities could not be used satisfactorily.

In the foregoing introduction the facts and figures related have been a foundation for the program which is now in existence. Anyone reading this article with the idea of planning a recreation program for his community would no doubt be concerned with financing such a program. This is an annual problem at Vine Grove. The question stated simply is this: How does a community with no designated funds for the purpose secure the money essential to the operation and maintenance of a recreation program? Vine Grove has utilized many plans. Although the facilities acquired on the departure of the National Youth Administration have been wonderfully helpful, it should be pointed out here that since they were not constructed for recreational purposes, much expense has been incurred to make them available for such use. Here the people of the community must be commended for their many contributions of labor and materials, without which much construction might never have been accomplished. For example, one man and his sons contributed both the materials and labor in roofing the extension on the Recreation building. Many other such contributions are too numerous to mention.

For the purpose of converting present facilities and the addition of others considered necessary, the people of Vine Grove annually combine their efforts in presenting a gigantic fund-raising program on and around November 11. This program is called a Turkey Shoot, though it has in the past included everything from magicians to wrestling, as well as the annual trapshooting and still-target shooting for turkeys. During the three years past this program has earned for recreational improvements a sum annually in excess of two thousand dollars. All proceeds from this program are designated for construction and improvement of permanent facilities. The school, Vine Grove's Womans Club, Homemakers Club, Lions Club, American Legion Post, and Parent-Teacher Association, plus many interested individuals, give untiringly and unselfishly each year of their time and efforts to make this program the success it has been thus far. Too much praise cannot be given these folks for their belief in the worthiness of such an endeavor.

The matter of securing funds is not finished with the Turkey Shoot. Money must be provided each year for the operating expense of the summer program. To determine ways and means of securing such funds, a committee of recreation-minded patrons is called together each Spring to discuss this and other plans for the program. In May of 1954 approximately twenty-five people met with the school principal and the recreation director for this purpose. Out of this meeting came a proposal which was adopted for this year. Merchants were solicited for contributions which netted more than seven hundred dollars including sponsors for four Little League baseball teams. A full-page advertisement was run in a county newspaper, featuring the names of the contributors and the schedule of the summer's activities. This page was also duplicated on poster cards of equivalent size and placed in the business establishments of contributors. Here we might add that on several occasions groups of men have signed notes to borrow money for the purpose of finishing some project or of beginning something considered urgent to the program. At times the amount borrowed has often been as much as four thousand dollars.

Probably the most significant outcome of the 1954 meeting was the selection of committee chairmen for securing volunteer assistance for the operation of various activities each night the program is in operation. Such tasks as selling tickets at the skating rink, selling items at the concession stands, coaching Little League baseball teams, umpiring, and many other jobs are all handled by volunteers. Some recreation authorities contend that a program based on volunteer workers is not sound. The Vine Grove program may be unusual in this respect for it has prospered and continued to grow with volunteers doing a lion's share of the work. Most of the workers are mothers and dads of youngsters who are participating in many phases of the program. This community WANTS recreation.

Supervision of the summer program at Vine Grove has experienced a series of changes. The Parent-Teacher Association and Vine Grove School jointly supervised the program during 1951 and 1952. Prior to that time the school had supervised the program, and at present the school supervises the program in conjunction with the Vine Grove Community Recreation Committee. Much credit must be given the PTA for its contributions. During 1951 and 1952 this group sold advertising in a booklet which contained the summer schedule as well. In 1951 this booklet alone realized twelve hundred dollars toward the operation of the program.

For the purpose of centralizing both responsibility and the various records that must be kept, the supervision is now the responsibility of the school, with the director employed by the school. The director is the only full-time paid employee of the program.

The program at Vine Grove includes some type of activity every day in the week with the exception of Saturday. Sunday afternoons the amateur baseball team participates in a league along with other towns in the area. Uniforms, league franchise, umpires, equipment, and other expenses of this team are all borne by the recreation program.

Little League baseball is played on Monday nights with four teams organized for the 1954 season. Business places sponsor the teams, volunteers coach them. The lighted field where these boys play also is used for the Tuesday and Thursday night Community Softball League and was built at a cost of twenty-six hundred dollars. The people of Vine Grove are indebted to the Kentucky Utilities Company for the consultation of their engineers and the assistance they rendered in the layout of the entire lighting program of the park.

The new hardwood floor has been used each Tuesday and Friday night for skating. An admission fee has been charged for skating, but plans are now in the making for the elimination of this charge in the future. Children twelve and under have enjoyed this privilege each Wednesday morning for several summers. This will go along with a recreation principle of raising all the necessary funds for the desired program and then presenting that program to the community.

Sale of soft drinks, ice cream, popcorn, and candy help to defray much of the expense of operation. Concession stands are available in the Recreation building and also in a building built near the center of the Park for that purpose.

During 1954 girls in the community have had Friday night for softball and volleyball play. The physical education program in the high school has done much to encourage the girls and to provide them with the skills necessary for enjoyment of these sports.

In 1953 an area was lighted at a cost of twenty-two hundred dollars, providing an outdoor basketball court, a tennis court, and the volleyball court. The tennis court has yet to be completed and future plans call for surfacing the entire area.

Swings, seesaws, climbing apparatus and picnic tables have been installed in a shaded area of the park at a cost of twelve hundred dollars. The tables are of concrete construction making maintenance relatively easy and inexpensive. This is important to remember since the program is considerably larger than at its beginning in 1949, yet the paid help has not been increased at all. Construction of facilities have always been considered with respect to ease of maintenance.

Two semi-automatic traps have been installed in the Park for trap shooting. These traps are used much in the Fall of each year, especially around Turkey Shoot time. Various organizations sponsor shoots at different times and these facilities are made available to them.

The Hardin County Fiscal Court, the State Board of Health, and the Hardin County Board of Education have been very cooperative in rendering invaluable assistance to the Vine Grove program, and this article could not be complete without acknowledging their aid. Neither would it be fair to conclude without mentioning the Vine Grove Lions Club which annually assumes a "Lion's" share of the task of providing Vine Grove with a recreation program of which it may be justly proud. Many times this organization has stepped into a difficult spot and produced the necessary funds or effort for some project.

What does the future hold for community recreation in Vine Grove? Has everything been done that can be done? Not at all! Plans are made for a long time ahead involving the addition of an amphitheatre, the improvement of the Recreation Building to house club rooms, a library, a game room, and a kitchen for the preparation of dinners, plus a banquet room for such gatherings. A swimming pool is and has been on the minds of leaders and people of the area for some time. Vine Grove's people hold no fear for the cost of its construction. They have done too much to let that stand in their way.

Lest anyone might think that the program has not met opposition in some of its efforts, this article would hasten to inform that on occasions there have been conflicts over what should be done next, but never has there been a reluctance on the part of the people to do something!

Leaders in various fields of this community were questioned regarding the values they had observed rendered by the recreation program to the community. When questioned about this, James T. Alton, Principal of Vine Grove School, replied: "The retaining power of the program has been a very great asset to the school. It has been our observation that because of the varied program offered the youngsters they are very reluctant to drop out of school, and I believe school records will justify that statement. In addition, delinquency has been reduced to a minimum, with those few delinquents being boys and girls who in the majority have not been regular participants in the recreation program."

Mr. A. J. Emerine, Cashier of a local bank added, "No dollar and cents value can be placed on this program. It has virtually eliminated delinquency in this area, and no other activity of the community entertains such a wide range of ages as does our recreation program."

The Hardin County School Superintendent, Mr. G. C. Burkhead, was questioned and his reply was, "The program at Vine Grove seeking to provide recreational opportunity for the people of that area has been an invaluable aid to the school program. This is manifest in records of the school available to everyone."

The foregoing account and subsequent endorsements have been prepared in the hope that others might take courage and find some assistance in providing recreation for youngsters and older folks as well in other areas of our state. If even one community is aided by this work, the effort will have been justified.

Commissioner's Message

One of the most significant milestones in the history of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association was passed on December 18, when the Board of Control authorized its Building Committee to complete the purchase of a lot in Lexington and to proceed with the planning and erection of an office building for the Association. The Board authorized the Commissioner to sign a contract with the architects who have been selected to draw the plans for the new building, and urged the Building Committee to make every effort to make the new building a reality just as soon as possible.

The building will be erected on a lot located on the west side of Rose Street between South Limestone Street and Washington Avenue. Plans and specifications are now being prepared by the architects, and it is hoped that bids can be let and construction started at some time during the month of March. The construction work is scheduled to be completed on or before July 1. The building will be modern in design, with a one floor plan including a full basement. It will be approximately 42' by 55'. It will not be pretentious, and is planned to utilize all of the space on the main floor. The basement will include storage rooms and other space which might be needed for future expansion.

Kentucky thus joins the ranks of several other states whose athletic associations own their own buildings. The Building Committee has four members. They are Chairman James L. Cobb, Director W. B. Jones, Director Jack Dawson, and Commissioner Ted Sanford.

The K.H.S.A.A. Protection Fund continues to render a fine service to the member schools of the Association. More than eight thousand dollars in claims have been paid out since July 1. However, one hundred twenty-eight member schools have not insured their athletes with the Protection Fund during the current year, taking advantage of the thirty dollars credit voted by the Board of Control for 1954-55. This credit insures thirty players free of charge in all sports except football. Examination cards and summary sheets have been mailed to all member schools, but the insurance is not considered to be in effect until the summary sheets, listing the players to be insured, are mailed to the State Office. Many schools, of course, carry other types of insurance, and several of the larger schools possibly have their own medical staffs. It is hoped that all K.H.S.A.A. members are seeing to it that their athletes have some type of insurance protection against injuries.

At this point in the 1954-55 basketball season, it appears that the conduct of team supporters is improving. Credit for this must be given to the school administrators and coaches who are making every effort to improve the sportsmanship of their student and adult supporters. It became the unpleasant duty of the Commissioner not long ago to suspend a member school from the Association for violation of K.H.S.A.A. By-Law 17, Practice of Sportsmanship. It was held that the school had not given proper protection to official representatives of a visiting school from a troublesome fan. An officer of the law had been present during the early part of the game, but had left the gymnasium for a short period of time. Had the peace officer been present when the trouble occurred it is probable that the trouble maker would have been ejected from the gymnasium promptly, and that no further trouble would have developed. Many of our school administrators are running a great risk in not seeing to it that peace officers are present at all of their home contests. The Board of Control and the Commissioner believe that one of the first implied duties of the home principal under the provisions of By-Law 17 is to have adequate police protection during games and immediately following. Arrests should be made and warrants sworn out promptly if the activities of the trouble makers justify this procedure.

"Approved" and "Certified Officials"

One hundred seventeen basketball officials have qualified for the "Certified" rating this year, and seventy-six have received the "Approved" rating. The latter rating does not carry forward from year to year, but must be earned each year. After an official has received the "Certified" rating, he keeps this rating by clinic attendance. Only officials receiving these higher ratings are eligible to work in the regional tournaments. Only "Certified" officials, who are residents of Kentucky, are eligible to work in the State Tournament.

Basketball officials who qualified for advanced ratings during the current season are as follows:

We are glad to report that our principals are using the athletic transfer blank more each year, with the result that rulings can be made on transfer cases more promptly. A first team player who transfers during the season is ineligible to represent any other school for the remainder of the season in that sport, even though his parents move to the new school district. The Commissioner has the authority to waive this penalty "in any case where there is evident injustice," and information given on the transfer blank is of great value when this decision is made.

little things we do have a definite bearing on our success or failure as an official. I have known of a few officials who chance taking a drink before a game. Think of the possible consequences! I know of an umpire who forgot a cigarette was in his mouth when he went to the field to place the ball for the opening kickoff. I know an excellent official who can no longer work in a certain town because of his failure to control his emotinal vocabulary. I also know officials who are cocky, arrogant, and self-centered, who often wonder why they have difficulties filling their schedule. These unethical personal characteristics can be controlled, if the official wills to do so.

Ethics After the Completion of the Game

Many problems can be avoided, if the official conducts himself properly at the completion of the ball game. I believe a few of the problems can be solved by the following ethical procedures:

1. Take the point of least resistance to the dressing room. You probably will have indiscreet remarks directed to you. Some of them are hard to take. Keep your legs moving and your mouth closed and you will reach your destination.

2. If the coach comes to the dressing room following the game, maintain your complacency. Meet the problem with courteous and direct answers. Don't argue.

3. If you are critical of the way your co-officials worked the game, now is the time, and the only time, to offer constructive criticism. Please avoid making derogatory comments to others as a way of self protection, or condemnation when that official's back is turned. Be direct.

4. You must maintain your conduct as a gentleman from portal to portal. Some officials who so thoroughly dehydrate themselves during the game are unable to pass the first absorption joint. If you must hydrate, at least wait until you are out of town. Respect is often lost when you are seen frequenting those places. You may return to that town to officiate again and, even though one glass of beverage was hardly a sin, there may be that "trouble maker" who will give you a hard time and sway the opinion of others.

5. You are, for sure, going to avoid discussion of offensive, defensive play patterns, etc., with coaches who are yet scheduled to play the team for whom you have officiated. Perhaps the best answer to this problem is, "I was too busy doing my job and am unable to give you a fair answer." This is a true statement, if you are concentrating on your duties as an official.

Conclusion

In conclusion, I would like to reenphasize that general ethics supercede officiating ethics and that everything an official does on or off the field affects his status. Officiating ethics begin upon certification as an official and can only end when you are no longer associated with the game. You are labeled an official and every unethical act expressed by you has a definite effect on the general public's reaction toward all officials.

I would like to present a creed taken from the National Federation of State High School Athletic Association's publication, "So Now You Are an Official." I am sure it summarizes very well what I have just attempted to say.

A Creed for Athletic Officials

Believing that mine is an important part in the nationwide school athletic program, I pledge myself to act in accordance with these principles:

1. To know fully the rules and accepted officiating procedures for each sport in which I serve as arbiter.

2. To build my game schedule through accepted worth, potential possibilities and inherent character, rather than through transitory acquaintance, or trading of favors or attempted pressures.

3. To honor every contract, even though this may occasionally result in financial loss, or loss of opportunity to work for a larger school or one involving less travel.

4. To keep myself physically and mentally fit.

5. To be systematic, prompt and business like in all my dealings with those I serve.

6. To wear the accepted official's attire and to maintain a neat and creditable appearance.

7. To act in such a way as to be a worthy example to those under my supervision.

8. To remember that my responsibility also extends to my fellow officials and that I must work as a member of a team.

9. To make my decisions promptly but without snap judgment, firmly but without arrogance, fairly but without officiousness, and to base them on the rules regardless of the type of school, the closeness of the score, or the opinions of partisan spectators.

10. To keep in mind that my first charge is the safety and general welfare of those under my supervision.

Southeastern Conference Bulletin

Commissioner Bernie Moore of the Southeastern Conference wrote recently to the State Office of the K.H.S.A.A., enclosing a bulletin which explained the Southeastern Conference scholarship and pointed out violations of the scholarship which affect an athlete's eligibility. Mr. Moore stated that his only purpose in asking that the bulletin be called to the attention of prospective athletes who may be going to college is to assist them and to keep them from doing anything or accepting anything which might cause their ineligibility in the Southeastern Conference. The bulletin follows:

Attention—High School Seniors

It is the desire of the Commissioner's Office to acquaint you with the Southeastern Conference scholarship rules.

Any high school athlete who may be offered a scholarship by a Southeastern Conference institution should know that the scholarship cannot exceed actual and necessary college expenses, which are tuition, fees, books, room, board, laundry and dry cleaning. Application for scholarship cannot be signed by applicant or parent prior to December 7.

The following are violations of Southeastern Conference rules which affect an athlete's eligibility:

1. Any financial aid to an athlete from any source other than the institution, his parents or guardian.

2. Any financial aid or promise of aid to any member of his family.

3. Promise of financial aid beyond his normal period of eligibility.

4. Summer or vacation employment for which a higher scale of pay is received by an athlete than is received by other employees doing the same type of work.

5. Award of money, gifts or promise of gifts equivalent to money, or lavish entertainment by anyone, including alumni or friends of the institution. (Example: clothes, television sets, radios, automobile, summer vacation, Bowl Game trips.)

6. Transportation to and from school by the institution.

7. Tryouts which include any demonstration of athletic ability.

Bernie Moore, Commissioner, Southeastern Conference.

Girls' Sports Associations

At long last there is to be an organization in Kentucky whose purpose is to promote wholesome sports and recreation programs for all the girls of Junior and Senior High Schools of the state. A group of interested teachers and students has met together a number of times for the last two years, developing purposes, standards and a plan for organization. A constitution has been written and the whole plan has now been endorsed by the State Department of Education, by the Kentucky Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, and the Kentucky High School Athletic Association.

The newly formed organization for girls is to be called the Kentucky Federation of High Schools Girls' Sports Associations. Its main purpose has been stated to "provide opportunities for sharing ideas on leadership and standards for establishing wholesome sports and recreational activities." It does not include the promotion of interscholastic competition for girls.

A handbook of instructions for organizing a local Girls' Sports Association is being prepared and will be sent to any teacher or interested group who requests it. Membership dues of $2 per year will be charged each group desiring to become a member of the Federation. Requests for membership blanks for information should be addressed to Mr. E. B. Whalen, Department of Education, Frankfort, Kentucky.

Sports programs for all girls in secondary schools should be encouraged and promoted and should be those which contribute to total fitness, to enjoyable use of leisure time, and to the development of the most desirable and attractive physical, mental and emotional qualities of young womanhood. A major objective in the sports programs should be the participation of many through the offering of a variety of activities. Getting all high school girls off the side lines and into active participation through intramural competition will be one of the outcomes of a well organized Federation of Girls' Sports Associations. General principles for setting up these programs have been agreed upon by the National Section for Girls and Womens Sports. They are listed below.

1. A medical examination should be given . . . prior to participating in the sports programs.
2. A healthful, safe, and sanitary environment should be provided for activities.
3. Every girl should have the opportunity to participate in a variety of activities including both individual and team sports.
4. Competition should be equitable between girls of approximately the same ability . . . maturity . . . skill.
5. Sport seasons should be limited . . . maximum number of practices and games carefully weighed.
6. Games should be played according to girls' rules . . . with qualified officials.
7. Intramural competition should be stressed and extramural competition . . . an outgrowth.
8. Extramural competition should be limited to a small geographic area . . . separate from boys' contests when possible and should include informal social events after the games.
9. Program leadership should be of the highest calibre . . . preferably by women wherever possible.

The Constitution and By-Laws of the new organization follow:

CONSTITUTION

ARTICLE I

NAME

Kentucky Federation of High School Girls' Sports Associations.

ARTICLE II

PURPOSE

Since many girls in high schools are interested in a more extensive program of Physical Education than is now provided in the regular Physical Education classes, this Federation is organized to provide opportunities for the development of leadership and to set standards for establishing sports and recreation programs and to promote such activities for the high school girls of Kentucky.

ARTICLE III

STANDARDS

The accepted standards for this Federation shall be the standards of the National Section for Girls and Womens Sports as listed in Standards in Sports for Girls and Women, 1953. These standards shall serve as a guide to action, as a basis for program planning.

Section 2. Provisional—Provisional membership is granted to those schools that wish to receive literature, but are not fulfilling the requirements for active membership. Such membership cannot be continued longer than two years, except by permission of the Executive Council. Provisional membership dues are the same as those for active membership.

The Kentucky High School Athletic Association and the Kentucky High School Coaches Association were represented at the National Federation meeting, held in New Orleans, Louisiana, on January 5-7, by Assistant Commissioner J. B. Mansfield; Dr. Lyman V. Ginger, Football Committee member; Principal Joe Ohr of the Irvine High School, Secretary of the Kentucky Coaches Association; and Athletic Director Edgar McNabb of the Beechwood High School, President of the Kentucky Coaches Association.

The three day meeting, which included sessions for state executive officers and for members of the National Federation Football Committee, was held in the St. Charles Hotel. S. F. Burke, National Federation President, was general chairman. Delegates from forty-two states were in attendance.

The National Federation Executive Committee met Wednesday morning and afternoon, January 5, and there was a session on "Non-Athletic Activity" Wednesday evening. Thursday and Friday were given over to meetings of the Football Committee. On Thursday evening the delegates were entertained at a dinner given with the compliments of the Louisiana Athletic Association and the New Orleans Recreation Department.

The state executive officers met on Friday evening and Saturday morning, with such items on the agenda as Report of the Non-Athletic Committee, The Basketball Program, Court or Legislative Activity, The Baseball Program, A Public Relations Project, and Bringing Statistical Data Up-to-Date.

During the first session of the Football Committee meeting, a complete report on the Chicago meeting, held in December, was made by Secretary Lyle Quinn of Iowa and Assistant Secretary Kermit Anderson of Minnesota. Particular emphasis was given to that part of the Chicago meeting which dealt with equipment and safety factors. Several proposals submitted by the Safety Committee were adopted later and will become effective in 1956 and 1957.

The Game Administration Committee, headed by Secretary J. C. Harper of Alabama, reclassified or introduced new signals for some twelve rules infractions. The whole purpose for the reclassification of signals is simplicity, with the idea that the signals can be better understood by coaches, players, and spectators.

The 1955 rules will show the modifications with the major changes in signals affecting foul signal Nos. 2 and 3 and the elimination of signal No. 10 as the present signals are known. Probably the most significant modification passed by the Committee was that of an ineligible receiver being down the field on a pass situation. The penalty was increased from a five yard loss to a fifteen yard loss.

Several important changes in the rules were voted in the Assembly, and among the changes were:

1. The snapper (center) should have the same right as his teammates to move his foot as soon as the snap motion has started. The vote registered by coaches and athletic directors favoring this rule was 4741 to 566.

2. All white stripes on jerseys below the elbow are illegal. This rule becomes effective in 1958.

3. Rubber-covered wire cage face guards are given the same standing as smooth plastic face guards.

4. The nylon cleat with metal tip was made legal. A report made by the Michigan delegates emphasized the fact that with use the cleat became more safe.

5. A maximum limit on the length of a cleat was adopted to become effective in 1956. The cleat, to be legal, can not be more than 7/8 of an inch in length.

Executive Secretary H. V. Porter summarized for members of the Football Committee the more important rule modifications. Mr. Porter's summary follows:

Allotment of State Tournament Tickets

Followers of teams winning the regional basketball tournaments will have an opportunity to purchase State Tournament tickets from their school principals under a ticket allotment plan similar to the one which has been in effect for the past several years. Approximately 1700 sets of tickets, calling for seats in the end and corner sections of the Coliseum, will be saved for the supporters of the regional winners. These tickets will be allotted to the schools involved on the basis of their enrollments, and the allotments will be made only to the schools with teams competing in any particular session. Principals of these schools will be advised concerning their allotments early in the week of the State Tournament.

By-Law 21

School administrators and coaches should check their schedules carefully and see to it that their teams are not playing more than the number of basketball games allowed under the provisions of K.H.S.A.A. By-Law 21. In only one county, conference or invitational tournament may the games played by a team representing a member school count as only one game. If a team plays in more than one of these tournaments, the one in which the most games are played may be counted as the one game mentioned in the By-Law.

News About Swimming

The 1955 State High School Swimming Meet is scheduled to be held in Lexington on Saturday, April 2. Although the State Swimming Committee and the Board of Control have not completed the preparation of swimming regulations for the state affair, it is safe to assume that these regulations will be essentially the same as those in effect last year.

Class A schools will include those high schools with an enrollment of 750 or more (grades 9-12), Class B will include those schools with an enrollment between 300 and 750, and Class C will be schools with an enrollment of less than 300. Any school may enter a class above its classification, and any school entering a team in the meet for the first time may enter the class below its classification.

The method of entering teams in the meet will be the same as in past years, with the State Office supplying entry blanks to the schools whose principals have indicated that they will enter teams in the meet. The Association will probably make the same allowance to participants for transportation, lodging and meals, as is given State Track Meet participants, this allowance applying to not more than two participants in each event. Expenses of the swimming coach will be paid if the school has as many as four entries in the State Meet.

Board Election

The terms of Board of Control members for Sections 2 and 5 expire on June 30. Four men have been nominated for membership on the Board by principals of Section 2. They are Principal Charles S. Combs of the Hartford High School, Supt. Robert P. Forsythe of the Muhlenberg County Schools, Principal Edwin J. Mayes of the Irvington High School, and Supt. George T. Taylor of the Central City Schools. In Section 5, two men have been nominated. They are Supt. Kenneth G. Gillaspie of the Georgetown Schools, and Principal George H. Wright of the Bellevue

The Lone Oak gymnasium was erected at a cost of approximately $300,000.

High School. Principals in the sections involved will be mailed ballots prior to February 15. These ballots should be returned on or before March 1.

"Approved" and "Certified" Officials

Since the list of "Approved" and "Certified" officials appeared in the January issue of the magazine, one additional official has qualified for the "Approved" rating and three for the "Certified". They are: Approved—Robert K. Hulse, Jr.; Certified—Ralph E. Hobbs, Damon Majors and George W. Riddle.

Correction

Through an error, the name of R. C. Johnson, a Springfield High School football player, was omitted from the South Central All-Conference Team, which appeared in the January issue of the Athlete. Johnson, a back, was an unanimous selection.

Protection Fund News

Three hundred twenty-two member schools of the K.H.S.A.A. had insured their athletes with the Protection Fund at the time this issue of the magazine went to press. Five hundred three claims, totaling $10,820.09, have been paid since July 1.

The Flying Dutchman

History is being written in the realm of school boy sportsmanship when a basketball player on the crucial decision of a game can take an official's decision "on the chin" and admit that he committed a foul which decides a most important tournament contest.

To Hugh Durham of Eastern High School of Middletown, goes The Flying Dutchman's salute of the month. With the controversial charging-blocking situation involved, Official Ben Edelen called charging on Hugh in the closing seconds of the Eastern-Manual Game in the Louisville Invitational Tournament, and Hugh took it "on the chin" like a true Kentucky Sportsman. A truly fierce competitor and a kid who plays every sport to win, Hugh Durham turned to Ben Edelen as his Manual opponent scored the foul point and said, "It was a close decision, but you were right." In that instant Hugh Durham became one of Kentucky's school boy immortals in the realm of sportsmanlike competition.

Marvin Gay, Louisville Times Sports Writer, paid Hugh the greatest compliment which could be paid a young athlete as he featured Hugh in his "Gay's Say." Marvin, who is constantly working for keen, competitive, sportsmanlike play in athletics, told the Dutchman that he felt that Durham's example is one which will make for improvement of athletic competition everywhere. We heartily agree.

Such action by a young athlete reflects credit not only on himself, but on his school, home and all those associated with him. It is rare indeed that a school boy is ever recognized with the Corn Cob Pipe of Honor Award for unselfish service to others, but Durham becomes one of the Cob Pipe Winners for the month of January because he passed up the opportunity to claim selfishly that he had been blocked, and showed athletes everywhere that a real sportsman knows how to take it as well as dish it out.

Those little Corn Cob Pipes of Honor mean a lot to the recipients as is evidenced by this quotation from Herman F. Keller, a member of the Board of Control of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations and a teacher in the Evansville, Indiana, school system: "It was indeed a very pleasant surprise recently when through the mail I received the Cob Pipe of Honor and its accompanying certificate. I had read about Cob Pipe Recipients in the Kentucky High School Athlete but little did I realize that I would ever become a member of The Flying Dutchman's Honor Roll. . . . Thank you very, very much for your very distinct honor conferred upon me and I only hope that I in some small way am worthy of it."

Another quote from Wilfred Susott, President of the Southern Indiana Officials Association, says, "I can see the results of your efforts in The Flying Dutchman Column as I officiate for the schools in Kentucky. The courtesy extended to the officials is a direct reflection of the efforts in your column. It was indeed a pleasant surprise to receive your Corn Cob Pipe of Honor. I shall certainly display The Flying Dutchman Award."

Countless Kentuckians certainly deserve the Corn Cob Pipe of Recognition but the Dutchman always waits for a recommendation from another Kentuckian before conferring the Honor. One of the coaches who should have had one of the little stinkers years ago is Freddie Lake, of Mackville. In all The Dutchman's experience, he has never met a gentleman of higher caliber and one whose life is more exemplary than Freddie's.

It remained, however, for officials Otis Roller and Jim King to call for a Corn Cob Pipe of Honor to be sent Freddie Lake, whom they classify as "one of the greatest." Start smokin', Freddie, because it's on its way to you now.

Hundreds of letters, cards and telephone calls have come to The Flying Dutchman from all parts of the United States commenting on the article "Basketball In Kentucky" which is currently appearing in SPORTS REVIEW on the news stands. No doubt exists that Kentucky's school boy basketball was placed squarely in front of the nation through this article. People from everywhere expressed amazement at all of the stimulating activities injected into Kentucky's high school basketball through the K.H.S.A.A. promotions.

Incidentally, one of the most appreciated compliments on the SPORTS REVIEW article came from Vine Grove's Loy Ingram. Loy, who is one of the most popular chaps in that section of Kentucky, is presently recuperating from a heart attack. A fellow has to get sick before he really finds out how many friends he has made because of unselfish activities all through his lifetime. This has happened to Loy, who has always been a friend of kids and has always been willing to go out of his way to do something unselfishly for somebody else. In recognition, Loy Ingram becomes a Corn Cob Pipe of Honor winner along with Coach Freddie Lake and Hugh Durham for the month of January.

Basketball officials in Kentucky are certainly versatile. This could never have been made more evident than when Don Hill, sportscaster, suffered laryngitis during the professional basketball game played this month in the Armory and called on personable John Dromo to take over the radio mike for him.

As the Dutchman listened to the broadcast of the game, he would have gambled that the voice was that of official John Dromo, but because he knew that Dromo was a "Whistler" and not a sportscaster and because the running account was so close to perfection, he could not be certain until a time out when it was announced that Dromo was pinchhitting for Don. We were further amazed later to learn that Dromo had never attempted a broadcast of a basketball game before. Personally, we would suggest that he go into this business professionally and become a millionaire faster by so doing than he would by officiating.

Remember to help that physically handicapped youngster to engage in sports normally like other young athletes. Further remember to write The Flying Dutchman telling about the Game Guy you are sponsoring so that he may be honored with the Dutchman's Lionheart Lapel Button and his name placed in the "hopper" for consideration for the Game Guy Plaque which is presented at the Annual K.H.S.A.A. Banquet to the youngster overcoming the greatest physical handicap to engage in Kentucky's high school sports.

CHECK-UP ON 1954 CODE: 20,000 football questionnaires were distributed and approximately 5,800 were returned and tabulated. The returns indicate a high degree of satisfaction with the changes which were authorized for the season of 1954. The rules which provided that a stopped clock should be started with the snap or a free-kick unless the Referee orders otherwise for abuse and the rule which eliminates nearly all possibility for a "hide-out" play were approved by more than 10 to 1. The simplification of the rule concerning a foul by B during the last timed down of a period and the increasing of the penalty for defensive holding were approved by about the same proportion. The rule which permits a team to use a properly constructed rubber-covered football when that team puts the ball in play was approved by a vote of about 2 to 1. Comments on the questionnaire concerning use of the rubber-covered football indicate that whatever objection has been voiced is based on lack of proper mechanics for making a change in balls when one team chooses to use the leather-covered ball and the other prefers the rubber-covered ball.

Reports from Rhode Island and other scattered areas where transition to the Federation Code was delayed until the 1954 season indicate a high degree of satisfaction with use of the Code. The simplification and orderly arrangement, as outlined in the recently released folder entitled "Football Symposium," was commented upon as being one of the reasons for the satisfaction which has been expressed by coaches and officials in making the transition. These simplified procedures have had a good effect on the game as administered by all groups and the advantages have more than balanced any slight inconvenience which may have come from adjusting to a new code.

COMMITTEE REPORTS: During the 1954 season, data concerning various phases of the game were collected. These were included in reports made by each of the standing committees. A summary of all statistics was available for use by Committee members in their deliberations.

AUTHORIZED RULES REVISIONS

Page 4: A note will be inserted under the field diagram to provide for flags with elastic standards at the ends of the field to assist in marking the inbounds lines when conditions are such as to obliterate the inbounds marks. Also, it will be stated that if both benches are on the same side of the field, they should extend from each 45-yardline to each 20-yardline.

1-5-1: The last sentence of this article will be revised to urge further use of some type of mouth or face protector and to make it permissible for any player to use a properly constructed face mask, including a rubber-covered cage-type mask provided it extends only a reasonable distance in front of the face. A survey of equipment revealed that many schools use the cage-type mask for the protection of spectacles and for protection against inadvertent blows which might injure the nose or mouth. Sentiment expressed in connection with the survey indicates that many types of mask are evolving and that it would not be wise to outlaw any of the widely used types until such time as it might be proved by statistical data that any one type is less safe than another. In the meantime, the current interpretation that it is illegal to deliberately grasp or twist a face mask for the purpose of worrying or twisting the head of the wearer is in effect. The equipment and safety committees were instructed to continue their studies and to attempt to develop a standard which might be applied to determine which type of protector should be encouraged and which should be considered illegal. These committees will continue to work with equipment manufacturers in the attempt to develop this type of equipment.

1-5-3-d: The last sentence of this item will be revised to permit the use of a properly constructed metal-tipped cleat. Also, a note will be added to specify that, beginning with the 1956 season, a cleat longer than 7/8 inch will be prohibited. In the rules supplement or elsewhere in the published material, schools will be urged to make wider use of practice cleats which are not longer than 3/4 inch and have an end diameter of 1/2 inch and of the cleats from 1/2 inch to 3/4 inch in length which have no metal posts but which are molded in the shoe sole, and some of which may be re-soled at small expense. The proper committees were instructed to attempt to develop standards for the proper type of metal alloy which will not chip or develop scratching surfaces.

2-3-2: A definition of what constitutes a valid fair catch signal will be inserted. The statement will be similar to that which appeared in the 1953 rules book and which was inadvertently omitted in the 1954 edition.

3-3-1: This article will be revised to provide for notifying the coaches as well as the captains that approximately 4 minutes of the half remain. Unless time is already out, the Referee will order the clock stopped for the notification. If a field clock is being used as the official timepiece, no notification will be required. By general rule, the clock will then be started with the snap or freekick.

3-3-3: To correct an inadvertent "holdover" statement, the exception for fair catch interference will be omitted.

6-2-4: The last sentence will be revised to make it clear that first touching of a kick by K is ignored if R then touches the kick and thereafter commits a foul. This revision does not change present practices except for one rare occurrence. That is the case where K might choose to decline the penalty for the foul by R. Under present rule, the first touching by K would be ignored if the foul occurs after R has had possession. The revised rule will make this apply if the penalty is declined, even though the foul occurs after touching (muffing) by R but with no possession.

6-4-2: The words "beyond the line" will be inserted at the end of the second line. The purpose is to make it clear that the statement applies only when the touching by K is beyond the scrimmage line or the free-kick line. Any touching behind K's line is ignored as far as the fair catch rule is concerned but it may cause the free-kick to be short.

6-4-5: The penalty will be simplified by stating that R may choose an awarded fair catch at spot of the interference. With this revision, the last part of the present wording becomes unnecessary because the declining of a penalty permits a team to ignore the foul and to take advantage of action during a down. Hence R might take the 15-yard penalty or decline it and they might choose to take an awarded fair catch or to keep the ball at point where it became dead in their possession. The purpose of the change in wording is simplification. There is no change in procedure.

7-2-4: The last sentence will be slightly reworded by substituting "be" for "take a position." If A1 runs through the 15-yard area, it is not necessary that he stop.

7-2-7: The wording will be revised to omit the statement about a snapper moving his feet during the snap. This will permit the snapper to move his foot at the time the ball motion starts. His foot rights are the same as those of any player of A.

7-5-4: and P.R. 4 under 8-5-2: The last sentence of Art. 4 will be reworded to make it clear that "enforcement" includes either accepting or declining the penalty. The new wording will specify that even if the penalty is declined, the ball belongs to the passing team at spot of the illegal pass. If the foul (the illegal pass) is by A and occurs during 4th down, a new series may then be awarded Team B if the ball is behind the line-to-gain and is not a safety. If B intercepts an illegal pass, they may choose to retain possession and have the foul ignored.

8-3-4: The Editorial Committee was authorized to revise the last sentence if it appears necessary to cover the possible double or multiple fouls which might be involved. Actually, the last sentence of Rule 2-22 probably gives sufficient coverage.

8-5-1: At the end of the 4th line, "either of" will be inserted.

8-5-2-c: In last line "the penalty" will be substituted for "it."

Play 4 under 8-5-2 will be omitted or the ruling will be revised to state that it is a safety regardless of whether the penalty is accepted or declined.

9-3-c: This will be expanded to include batting or batting at a loose ball other than a forward pass.

9-6-1: A report on an experiment by a conference in New York indicates that the group favors a modification which permits the quarterback to confer with his coach whenever the clock is stopped. The Committee did not feel that action on this matter at the present time would be desirable but they they authorized the New York authorities to continue the experiment if the conference members desire to do so.

10-2-1 and 2: These articles will be revised to indicate that the dividing line in determining whether these fouls constitute a double or multiple foul is the beginning, rather than the ending of enforcement. If there is a foul by A during the down and there is a foul by B after it has been determined whether the penalty for the first foul will be accepted or declined, the second foul will not make this situation a double foul. Instead, penalty for the 1st foul will be accepted or declined, after which penalty for the second foul will be accepted or declined. The Editorial Committee was authorized to use some discretion after careful study of the problems which might be encountered in changing this dividing line.

An attempt will be made to outline the proper procedure in certain borderline cases where it is difficult to determine when a penalty has been accepted or declined. In certain situations, the Referee is instructed to consider the penalty as having been automatically accepted or declined if an advantage to the offended team is obvious. It will be necessary to specify whether, in such circumstances, the acceptance or declination occurs as soon as ball becomes dead. Several plays in the Case Book will cover some of the doubtful situations if the revision is attempted and there is no way to fix a definite time when the decision as to acceptance has been made.

10-2-3: This article will be revised for better coverage and to make it clear that this includes fouls connected with the try-for-point but does not include fouls connected with the free-kick. It will also be examined in the light of the possible revision of 10-2.

GENERAL: Interpretations for several listed situations were authorized. Some of these confirm interpretations which were used during the past season and some of them are slightly revised.

1. In determining whether a second shift is a false start, the Official may regard it as a suspicious circumstance if the snapper suddenly removes his hand from the ball to participate in a shift or if the linemen have taken their normal charging position with a hand on the ground and then make a sudden change in this position as a part of the shift. In contrast, if linemen are not down in their charging position but merely have hands on the knees when starting the second shift, the benefit of any doubt should be given to Team A.

2. If a player of A is not in legal position on the line and is not at least one yard behind the line when he starts in motion backward, it is not necessary that he be 5 yards behind the line at the time of the snap if he is the man in motion. Under ordinary circumstances, this will be the quarterback but it also applies to a flanker who may be near the line but not on the line prior to the snap but is at least a yard behind the line at the time of the snap.

Park City has a new gymnasium seating 2000.

3. If, during a scrimmage-kick, a fair catch signal is given by a player who is a considerable distance away from where the kick comes down, Officials are authorized to assume that players of K would not have a reasonable opportunity to know that a signal had been given. Hence, if a runner is tackled after the ball has become dead, it is not subject to penalty. In such matters, the procedure should be the same for any case in which there is activity if the ball has become dead. Penalty is enforced only in case the player had reasonable opportunity to know that the ball had become dead.

4. If two players have hand or hands on the ball, each is to be regarded as a runner and either may be tackled. Any advance which is made while the ball is in possession of more than one player is to be considered a legal advance, provided there is no hand-off while the player who last takes the ball is in advance of the player from whom he receives it in a situation where forward handling is prohibited.

5. If a snapper moves a foot at about the time of the snap, the Official is authorized to penalize if there is a suspicion that the foot is being moved before the snap motion starts. The snapper has the same foot rights as those of any teammate. However, it is somewhat easier for the snapper to make a false start by moving a foot slightly before the ball motion is started. If there is such movement, the Official should not hesitate to rule that it is a false start.

6. If players make a practice of slapping or jerking or twisting a face protector, it is a suspicious act. Slapping is clearly a foul. Jerking or twisting is an infraction of 9-2-2-c and if such act appears to be for the purpose of irritating the opponent or merely because it offers a good hand hold for loosening the helmet.

FOOTBALL OFFICIATING PROCEDURES: After careful study of certain items related to officiating mechanics, the Game Administration Committee recommended a number of procedures which involve signals. The following procedures were authorized.

For intentional grounding, Signal 12 will be used. For false start, illegal acts by the snapper, illegal snap, illegal position at snap, having fewer than 7 players on A's line at the snap and for flying block or tackle, Signal 2 will be used. The designation for Signal 2 will be "for illegal position or procedure." For an illegal shift, Signal 3 (illegal motion) executed with both hands will be used. For charging into a fair catcher, Signal 5 (personal foul) will be used. The same signal will be used for striking, kicking, or kneeing. For roughing the kicker, Signal 8 will be used. For holding or illegal use of hand or arm by either team, Signal 11 will be used. The defensive holding signal (10) which was used in past years will be discontinued. A new signal will be used in place of Signal 10. It is the placing of the finger tips of each hand on each shoulder. This will be used for illegally kicking, batting, kicking at or batting at a loose ball. That type of forward pass interference which is caused by an ineligible receiver being downfield too soon will be designated by Signal 15.

Signal 18 will be used to indicate interlocked interference as well as for crawling, pushing or helping the runner. When a touchback occurs, the dead ball signal will be followed by waving the raised hand from side to side.

Present Signal 6 which has been used for roughness and piling on will be discontinued. This is one of the personal fouls and the personal foul signal will be used.

FOOTBALL CASE BOOK: Several slight revisions in play rulings as used in the Football Case Book were authorized. Most of these are for correcting typographical errors or for making the statement more complete. Plays which are affected include the following: 4; 9; 11; Items about Rule 10 on page 8; Question 2 of page 9; 125; 148; 209A; and Question 1 on page 63.

MINOR EDITORIAL CHANGES were referred to the Editorial Committee with authority to act. Also, several specific items were assigned to the proper standing committee for further study and possible inclusion on next year's questionnaire.

The 13th Regional Tournament will be held in Clay County's new gym.

Athletics and the Atomic Age

It takes years to build body strength and coordination, and generations to build a nation. The fused atoms from the H-bomb can destroy both in a split second. This could lead to a fatalistic philosophy of "What's the use?" But it took a virile, non-fatalistic nation to develop the know-how and the x-billion cash to get on speaking terms with this eon-old secret. No group of washed-out sedentarians could have done it.

Nature's laws do not change. Man's ability to understand them and adapt himself is the stuff on which progress is based. That muscles develop through use and coordination comes from practice, is as true today as it was when an atombusting cataclysm projected the swirls which came together in human form. Desirable human relationships spring from matching strength, speed and wit with other individuals and with other forces. The individual grows through striving mightily in a common cause under stress of competition. To date, no one has been able to find a suitable substitute for this stimulus.

The schools are the channel through which the flood of living energy flows. As the units tumble through, they are bombarded with the neutronic cosmic forces which cause latent talent and pent up energy to explode or fuse into the skills and abilities which give purpose and importance to the process of living. One important source of this atomic phenomenon is the activity centered around training of the human physical mechanism. Atomic power is a physical thing just as muscular power and endurance are physical. Mental processes merely unlock the shackles. To neglect the importance of the physical is to fail to appreciate basic natural law. Strength, health, endurance and coordination are basic attributes worth striving for. They seldom reach maximum development without direction. That direction is one essential job of the school.

It takes courage and ingenuity to gear the school physical fitness activity to enable the human mechanism to keep pace with the needs of the new era in which supersonic speed is a fait accompli and the terrible and wonderful power in the atom is being unlocked.

The nation's welfare depends on the ability of the schools to reach every student through this important activity. They must not fail.—A National Federation Editorial.

DON'T WAIT

When I quit this mortal shore,
And mosey 'round the earth no more,
Don't weep, don't sigh, don't sob,
I may have struck a better job.

Don't go and buy a large bouquet,
For which you'll find it hard to pay.

Don't mope around and feel all blue,
I may be better off than you,
Don't tell the folks I was a saint,
Or any old thing that I ain't.

If you have jam like that to spread,
Please hand it out before I'm dead.

If you have roses, bless your soul,
Just pin one in my button-hole,
While I'm alive and well, today,
Don't wait until I've gone away.

Girls Sports Association News

Last month the organization of a state association for girls sports was announced. It is hoped that many of you have been considering how you can get a G.S.A. started in your school. The constitution which will be used to govern the state association was published, and you have all had a chance to read it through. It is planned to hold the election of officers at the annual meeting during K.E.A. Only representatives of member associations will be allowed to hold office. Your dues should be sent in as soon as possible in order that you may get started on your local school plans. In order to help local schools get started, suggestions are made here for your help. Also there is a membership blank for your use. This blank should be returned to Dr. Martha G. Carr, Department of Physical Education, University of Kentucky, who is acting as temporary chairman until the election of officers can be held.

Getting the G.S.A. Started

The organization of a Girls Sports Association is started best by talking with the girls in the school. Follow this by a discussion with the Dean of Girls, the Guidance Counselor, and then the Principal. Stress in each meeting the values, types of program and what other schools are doing in G.S.A. Some of the values you may want to stress could be: Social development, leisure time activities, improvement of skills, promotion of leadership, physical fitness, teaching carry-over activities, co-recreation encouraged, health and safety, participation of large groups, wholesome attitudes established, and fun for all.

With the permission of the principal, organize a Girls' School Athletic Council consisting of the following members: Principal, Dean of Girls, Guidance Counselor, two interested teachers, men's coach, school custodian, school Business Manager, and a student representative.

Present these problems to the council:

Time available for the club, use of the gymnasium, and facilities and equipment.

These meetings are necessary to set up a G.S.A.:

1. A meeting of all girls of the school called by the Dean of Girls, the Principal or you, if you have the authority. Have a speaker from another school or the state association to explain her G.S.A. If this is not possible, you, the teacher, should do this. Present the report of the Girl's School Athletic Council. Nominate tentative officers from the girls.

2. Hold another meeting of all the girls in the school. Explain that membership is open to all girls. Tell about your tentative plans for activities and program. Discuss awards (this is not necessary). Have an election of officers. Appoint a constitution committee.

3. A meeting of interested girls only. Adopt the constitution. Appoint student sport managers. Appoint any committees called for in the constitution.

Now you are ready to start making plans for the year's program. Next month several ideas for program will be given, but until then you might consider the following points in setting up your sports calendar: 1) Facilities in the community as well as in your school, 2) Needs and interests of the student body, 3) Equipment on hand, 4) Time which can be allotted to program, 5) Indoor and outdoor activities, 6) Organized and unorganized activities, 7) Selecting activities from both team and individual sports, 8) Competitive and non-competitive sports, 9) Co-educational activities, 10) Play days, 11) Award banquets.

Competition can be carried on through color teams, home room teams, class teams, or any group of interested girls. Have some activities "just for fun" without competition, such as hikes, picnics and parties.

Next month there will be information concerning activities and point systems. Now tear off the membership blank below or prepare a form similar to it and mail it as soon as possible.

School Athletics Then and Now

By J. B. Edmonson (deceased)

National Press note: The late J. B. Edmonson, an influential leader in North Central and National Educational Association activities until his death in 1953, was President of the Michigan High School Athletic Association in 1911-12 and was active in development of that association over a long period. His article "Then and Now" was used in the National Federation Press in 1945. A few months before his death Mr. Edmonson asked for and approved suggestions for a revision to bring the article up-to-date. The revision was too late to be used by him.

THEN (1910)—Athletic participation was grudgingly tolerated.

NOW (1953) — Such participation is strongly encouraged for all.

THEN—Physical ed was nil except for those in competitive sports.

NOW—Physical ed for all is generally given and frequently required.

THEN—Football and baseball were the major sports with slight interest in basketball and track.

NOW—Varied programs and many sports.

THEN—Little emphasis on good sportsmanship, and rowdyism was fairly common.

NOW—Pupils and fans are instructed in sportsmanship, and rowdyism is not common.

THEN—Few schools had gymnasiums or playgrounds.

NOW—Schools have gyms and playgrounds.

THEN—Financing of school athletics was the responsibility of the team or of an outside group.

NOW—Athletics and physical ed supported by general funds or student funds.

THEN—Local sports groups and former athletes had a control over many teams.

NOW—Athletics are a part of a school's program.

THEN—Athletic coach was a local athlete who was frequently not a member of the school staff.

NOW—Physical ed and athletic coaches must hold teachers' certificates.

THEN—Eligibility standards were poorly enforced. Alumni and former students often used on teams.

NOW—Rules are clearly defined and strictly enforced.

THEN—Game officials were often chosen with an eye for their interest in a home town victory.

NOW—Officials must go through a comprehensive training course sponsored by the State Associations.

THEN—School assumed no responsibility for injury of players.

NOW—Schools, through cooperative insurance, protect players.

THEN—Recruiting of high school athletes by colleges was common and high school teams were scheduled.

NOW—Colleges cannot use high school students and high school team cannot play college team.

THEN—Schools assumed little responsibility for health examinations and health instruction.

NOW—Health objective generally recognized. Physical examination now prerequisite for eligibility.

THEN—Schools were subjected to very little discipline except as locally administered.

NOW—The State Athletic Association has large measure of disciplinary control.

THEN—Schools might play an unlimited number of basketball or football games throughout the year.

NOW—Number of games and also sports seasons are limited by State Association rules.

THEN—Post-season games and cross-country trips were sponsored.

NOW—Post-season games are prohibited and distant trips are regulated.

THEN—Out-of-season practice was common.

NOW—Out-of-season practice is prohibited or limited.

THEN—Men nearly 21 competed against boys of normal high school age.

NOW—Age limits are lower—usually 18 plus or 19.

THEN—Playing equipment and rules were designed by college or Athletic Union men for adult participants.

NOW—Equipment and rules are now adapted to high school competitors.

THEN—Mythical national championships were promoted.

NOW—No national championship can be sanctioned.

THEN—Athletics were largely for the boys.

NOW—Fitness programs and sports are for both boys and girls.

A Basketball Frankenstein

Editor's Note: This article was in the 1949 National Federation Press. The suggested time limit on continuous control (25 seconds for both back and front court) was considered radical and it received little support. In 1955, use of a time limit by the Professional Basketball League has made it one of the most talked about possibilities for an improved game.

IN CURRENT BASKETBALL, "freezing" or "keep-away" tactics could become a Frankenstein. Under certain conditions, the team in the lead attempts a "keep-away" type of play and if they are good ball handlers, the defensive team is made to look foolish in their futile chasing of the ball. In desperation, all contact precautions are dispensed with and there is a succession of fouls.

YEARS AGO, the team in the lead attempted to keep control of the ball just as they do today. However, it was more difficult to retain control because more contact was permitted and it was common practice for the Official to give the benefit of the doubt to the defensive player when he was actually trying to get his hands on the ball. A player in control could be guarded so closely that it was difficult for him to accurately pass or dribble. The Defense had a reasonable chance to secure a held ball or to bat the ball out of control. Because of this, the keep-away tactics were always mixed with an attempt to make a quick break for the basket and it was good strategy for a team to risk a try-for-goal whenever it had a reasonable opportunity.

Through the years, the amount of permissible contact has steadily decreased. Evidence of this is in the higher scores and in the greater number of contact fouls per game. The number of such called fouls has doubled in the past ten years even though players make more effort to avoid contact. As a result of this lack of contact, and because of constantly increased efficiency in ball handling (which may be partly attributed to the smaller-sized ball and to a more accurately constructed ball), it is practically impossible for the Defense to prevent a reasonably good opponent from retaining control of the ball for as long as they desire to do so. Consequently, when the team in the lead begins to play keep-away ball, the Defense has a feeling of helplessness and they can be made to look foolish in their futile attempts to get their hands on the ball. There is nothing left for them to do but to throw caution to the wind and attempt to crowd the player in control. Any player would be severely criticized if he did not do this and there is no alternative for a coach but to instruct his players to risk fouling. Even the most rabid fan believes in giving the underdog his chance. Hence, a game which has been thoroughly enjoyable up to a point, becomes an anti-climax with no rapid scoring action. The thrills which were once common in the last few minutes of a close game have been replaced with an aggravating let-down in watching an exhibition of tantalization and frustration.

ATTEMPTED CURES: The attempted cures seek to prevent the fouling by making the penalty more severe, i.e., so costly that the Defense cannot afford to foul. Actually, when the penalty is unduly severe, it is an invitation for the team in the lead to play more keep-away ball in an attempt to draw a foul. Consequently, where they would once have taken a chance in attempting a field goal to increase their lead, this becomes poor strategy which leads to severe criticism if the shooter is not successful. As far as the Defense is concerned, they do not have any choice but to commit a foul regardless of how severe the penalty for a foul may be. If they do not commit a foul, they have lost the game anyway and they look less foolish if they crowd an opponent.

BASIC QUESTIONS. The problem narrows down to one question. Is it more desirable to have the keep-away type of play with its inevitable resultant fouling, or is it desirable to force a team to keep attempting to score? When all the related facts are analyzed and boiled down to essentials, this is the question which must be answered by basketball leaders. It is impossible to encourage keep-away ball and not have the rough scramble. There are those who contend that the keep-away type of play is a desirable part of the game, since it involves good ball handling. Also, there are those who contend that if a team is in the lead they ought to be permitted to protect this lead by any means they may choose. In contrast, there are those who contend that even a mediocre team can, with present prohibitions against contact, retain control of the ball without any special skill in the fine points of ball handling. And there are those who believe that the game would be better off if it retained the thrills which once came from the rapid change of possession and the rapid scoring action which once accompanied close games and continued up to the time of the final gun.

If basketball leaders believe that it would be more desirable to discourage the keep-away type of game and that any sporting team ought to be willing to trade shots if the score is that close, there seems to be only one way to insure this, i.e., to limit the amount of time a team may retain continuous control. If this were done, control in the front court would be handled in practically the same way as control in the back court. For the back court, the rule is seldom invoked because players know that they must advance the ball to the front court within the given time and they immediately devise a style of play which will get the ball there without any violation having been committed. It is reasonable to assume that if they knew they must try for goal within the stated time limit (possibly 15 seconds in the front court), they would adopt a style of play which would get them in a reasonably good position for a try-for-goal. Failing in this, they could settle for a held ball which would break control. Under such circumstances, the former thrills which were once packed into the last few minutes might be returned to replace the chaos which now mars many games.

CONCLUSION: The basic question must be answered one way or another before further rules action is attempted. Unless this decision of basic philosophy is made, rules action will merely result in floundering. The National Committee will find itself in a situation with everyone demanding that something be done but with no unanimity of opinion as to what can or should be done.

The Flying Dutchman

All roads now lead to Lexington and the 1955 Kentucky High School Basketball tournament. Kentucky's regional champions, known as the "Sweet Sixteen", will be arriving by bus, train and other first class transportation with all expenses paid. This is a gigantic stride of progress from the way it used to be.

Talking to Roy H. Whalin the other day about the wonderful set-up the present day quintettes have in the mode of travel and accommodation caused the former Coach of Marrowbone High School, now associated with Spencerian Commercial School of Louisville, to draw a sharp contrast.

Roy related that back in 1927 his Marrowbone team survived trials and tribulations to get to the State Tournament, which should cause the present crop of sixteen regional champions to start counting their blessings.

To start with, such sturdy country boys as Sam Alexander, now director of finance for the Jefferson County Board of Education, had only a dirt court to practice and play their games on, only nobody would play them in the mud so all games were played away from home and each required two to three days for the round trip since Marrowbone then was isolated with mud roads in all directions.

For the district tournament the team journeyed to Columbia in a farm truck. The following week was the regional meet in Louisville and the team left Marrowbone in a wagon drawn by six mules. Upon reaching Glasgow the squad transferred to a farm truck which took those rugged basketeers to Horse Cave.

Don't rush the Dutchman now, "Dear Readers", as there is a lot more to come because, wonder of wonders, the kids went modern in the land of W. B. Owen, Ralph Dorsey and Joe Billy Mansfield to catch a train to Louisville. Marrowbone couldn't go home after winning the Class B regional affair because it had rained again and no traffic was going in or out of their town so they stayed over in the big city for a week awaiting the 1927 Kentucky High School Tournament in Lexington.

Remember the song which came out during the first world war, "How You Gonna Keep Em Down On The Farm After They've Seen Patee?" Sam Alexander's daddy hadn't heard it so he let Sam come but Marrowbone's "Hot Shot", Mitch Thurman, who stood 6'5" and was one of the high scorers, refused to make the trip to the Louisville regional because his pappy thought it would be "too much city" for him—so the team had five regulars and two subs to operate with.

Don't go away, Dutchman fans, because there's more to this transportation problem yet. After losing in the quarter finals of the State Tournament, the team got as far as Burnside by train on the return trip but there had to board a packet steamboat for Burkesville, where they were met by parents and friends from home.

Boy— Oh— Boy— Have you ever heard anything like this? Calling all coaches! If any of your "Mighty Mites" start complaining going, coming or during your sojourn at this 1955 State Meet, just read them this month's Flying Dutchman. If that doesn't silence them, then their only hope is to join the army now where travel, food and entertainment in "luxurious" surroundings will bring the contentment their little hearts desire.

Kentucky is noted for its fast horses, beautiful girls, rugged competitive kids and courageous officials, and the most courageous of them all just have to doff their hats right now to Somerset's Dr. Bob McLeod who calls ball games for the fun and recreation he gets from it.

Dr. Bob, on a game-winning goal try in the last second knew the ball was in the air when the Timer's signal sounded and immediately ruled it so, even though it was against the home team in a "Blood and Thunder" game. By not throwing the responsibility of the decision on the Timer, as is done too often, he won the respect of thousands and the Dutchman's "Salute of the Month."

Small wonder that Kentucky's school boy officiating is pointed to as outstanding in the nation when its officials not only know the rules and how to enforce them but also have the "Raw Guts" to call the tough ones when the chips are down.

Here's another Game Guy and he is none other than Coach Paul Coop's son, Dickie. Campbellsville Coach Coop, who is one of the finest men Kentucky ever bred, can be downright proud of Dickie, who was sent the Lionheart Lapel Award for overcoming Polio to set an example for other physically-handicapped youngsters to pattern from. Dickie makes the twelfth athlete and fighter Kentuckians have told the Dutchman about this

Early Season Baseball Questions—Installment 1

Editor's Note: These rulings do not set aside or modify any rule. They are interpretations on some of the early season situations which have been presented.

1. Play: Have any errors or omissions been discovered in the 1955 baseball publications?

Ruling: In the RULES BOOK, a note under the balk penalty on page 24 states that the Professional rule is slightly different from the Federation rule. That statement was correct at the time the note was printed but since that time, the Professional balk rule has been changed so that it is now the same as the Federation rule.

In the BASEBALL CASE BOOK, the term "retouching" is used in Play 57. The correct word is "replacement." Also, in Play 143, omit the last sentence.

2. Play: Is use of a head protector for each batter mandatory?

Ruling: In a few areas, it is mandatory by order of the conference or the State Association. As far as the rules are concerned, use of such a protector is recommended in 1-1-5.

3. Play: A line drive to right field comes down on the foul line and then bounces into fair territory or foul territory. Is this a fair hit?

Ruling: Yes. The line is a part of fair territory in accordance with last sentence of 1-2-1 and 2-7-1-(c).

4. Play: On a pitch-out, catcher has one or both feet several feet to the side of home plate.

Ruling: In a Professional game, this would be considered a balk. By the Federation Code, it is a legal act in accordance with last sentence of 2-3-2.

5. Play: A ball has all of the qualifications listed in 1-3-4 except that some cord other than yarn is used in the construction.

Ruling: Since top grade baseballs are constructed of yarn, it is assumed that no manufacturer will use any other type cord until such time as some newly developed satisfactory substitute might be approved.

6. Play: With R1 on 2nd and R2 on 1st, B3 attempts a bunt which rises high in the air and comes down near 2nd. Should Umpire announce infield fly?

Ruling: No. An attempted bunt cannot become an infield fly.

7. Play: A runner advances from 1st to 2nd. He reaches 2nd safely but overslides after which he is tagged out. Is this ruled the same as if he had been put out before he touched 2nd?

Ruling: In one respect, it is ruled the same, i.e., the runner is not credited with a stolen base nor with an extra base hit. In other respects, it is ruled the same as if he were run down on his way to 3rd. If it was a force play, the force ended as soon as the runner safely touched 2nd and the putting out of the runner is not considered a force-out. Consequently, any run scored before such out will count.

8. Play: Is penalty for an illegal pitch the same as for an illegal balk?

Ruling: It is provided there is a runner.

9. Play: May a balk result in a ball being called?

Ruling: If penalty for the balk is enforced, it never results in a ball being called but if it is a situation such that the penalty for the balk is automatically declined, it might result in a ball being called. This could happen in the case where, with R1 on 1st, pitcher makes a quick return-pitch and it is a 4th ball. In this case, each runner advances one base and the batter is awarded 1st base so that the balk penalty is automatically declined.

10. Play: How strict should the Umpire be concerning delay by the pitcher?

Ruling: More attention will be given to enforcement of this rule than in past seasons. The 20-second time limit may be used as a guide but the Umpire should not hesitate to award a ball to the batter in any case where the pitcher unnecessarily consumes time.

11. Play: It is the turn of B5 to bat but B6 erroneously steps in the box and receives one ball and/or one strike. The error is then discovered.

Ruling: B5 is declared out immediately. B6 should then start his turn at bat with no balls or strikes. B7 should follow.

12. Play: It is the turn of B3 to bat but B4 erroneously bats and reaches 1st safely. B3 then bats but the irregularity is not discovered immediately. B4 steals 2nd and goes to 3rd on an overthrow. B3 then hits a single to drive B4 home. The irregularities are then discovered.

Ruling: B5 (who should have followed B4) is declared out. B3 (the wrong batter) is removed from base and B4 is sent back to 3rd. It is now the turn of B6 to bat.

13. Play: It is the turn of B1 to bat but B5 erroneously bats and gets on base. The error is not discovered until B2, B3 and B4 have batted so that it is now the turn of B5 to bat but he is on base.

Ruling: B5 is declared out as a batter but he is allowed to remain on base and it is now the turn of B6 to bat.

14. Play: With R1 on 1st, B2 hits to right field. An overthrow at first: (a) goes into the stands; or (b) strikes the enclosing wall and rebounds to the catcher. In going to 3rd, R1 misses 2nd base and ball is thrown there for an appeal.

Ruling: In (a), the missed ball is ignored since ball became dead and 3rd base is awarded. In (b), R1 is out, since ball did not become dead.

15. Play: On an attempted pitch-out, B3 steps out of his box in: (a) striking at and missing the pitch; or (b) hitting a single.

Ruling: In (a), there is no penalty unless subsequent action should be ruled interference with the catcher's throw. In (b), B3 is out immediately and ball becomes dead as soon as ball is hit.

16. Play: Does ball become dead when struck by a fielder's cap or glove which is thrown at the ball?

Ruling: Ball does not become dead immediately except in a case where the thrown cap or glove prevents a batted fair ball from going over the fence in flight. In all other cases, ball remains alive until no further advance by any runner is being attempted. Umpire then decides whether each advance is as great as the penalty award for the infraction. In an unusual case, this could result in one runner advancing farther than the awarded base and another advancing less than the awarded distance. The latter is entitled to the awarded base. The other retains the base he reached safely.

17. Play: In determining how many bases shall be awarded for an overthrow, when is a pitcher considered to be in pitching position on his plate and when is he to be regarded the same as any other infielder?

Ruling: Opinions are somewhat different in this connection. However, it is assumed that standing on the pitcher's plate is significant only in those situations in which it would be natural for a pitcher to consider delivering to the batter. As an illustration, if a catcher's throw is muffed by F4 and is recovered by the pitcher and if this recovery should happen to be while the pitcher is touching his plate and he then overthrows home in an attempt to retire a runner, the pitcher should be regarded the same as any other infielder and the award would be two bases.

18. Play: Is it always illegal for a retired runner to be in a position which hinders a fielder?

Ruling: While a retired runner is not permitted to intentionally interfere with a fielder, there are circumstances in which the retired runner's team should not be penalized. His right to a position on the field is somewhat dependent on whether he has had a reasonable opportunity to know that he has been put out. As an illustration, R1 might be on 1st when B2 hits a high fly which comes down near the plate. It is natural for B2 to run to 1st base even though the fly may be caught before he reaches there. If, in the meantime, there should be a throw to 1st after the fly is caught and if the throw strikes B2 while he is in legal territory, he should not be penalized for interference. In these cases, the Umpire has some discretionary authority.

19. Play: May two runners be called out for one infraction?

Ruling: Yes, provided an infraction such as interference by a batter or runner prevents a double play.

20. Play: With R1 on 3rd, B2 strikes and misses a pitch as R1 advances. (a) the pitch is caught by the catcher and B2 holds his position in his box while R1 slides in; or (b) the pitch is muffed by the catcher and rolls toward 3rd, where it is recovered by the catcher who throws toward the pitcher at home but the thrown ball strikes B2 who continues to hold his position in his box toward 3rd.

Ruling: In (a), B2 should not be penalized for interference. In (b), it is interference if B2 had a reasonable opportunity to step away from congested area.

21. Play: With R1 on 2nd, B2 attempts to bunt on 3rd strike. The bunt is a foul fly which is caught by the catcher. Does ball become dead when 3rd strike is bunted foul or may R1 be thrown out if caught off 2nd?

Ruling: Ball remains alive. R1 may be thrown out.

22. Play: How many types of appeal play are there?

Ruling: Several years ago there were a number of types. One type was batting out of turn. For this act, neither the Umpire nor the Scorer had authority to call attention to the infraction. Under the new rule concerning this, it is no longer an appeal play. At present, there are only two types of appeal plays, i.e., failure of a runner to touch a base in advancing or returning and failure of a runner to retouch his base after a fielder has touched a batted ball which is then caught.

23. Play: Pitcher hits a 2-base hit but fails to touch 1st. When coacher signals to him, pitcher requests time-out with the intention of going back to 1st while the ball is dead.

Ruling: Umpire should refuse to grant the request until the fielding team has had ample time to make an appeal. If request is granted, runner cannot return to an untouched base during dead ball. If the fielding team does not notice the infraction, runner may remain on 2nd. If they do notice the infraction and ball has become dead, ball should be returned to the pitcher on his plate and then thrown to 1st for the appeal.

24. Play: When two bases are awarded for an overthrow which goes into a stand, where is the starting point?

Ruling: If the throw is by an outfielder or is by an infielder whose throw is not the first throw after a pitch, the starting point for the award is the base which was occupied by the runner at the time the ball left the thrower's hand. In any other case, the starting point is the base which was occupied by the runner at the time of the pitch.

25. Play: With R1 advancing from 2nd toward 3rd, there is a wild pitch or a pitch which is muffed by the catcher. R1 advances to home base. Is he entitled to such base?

Ruling: It depends on whether the ball went into the stand or otherwise became dead. If it did, R1 is entitled to only one base, i.e., 3rd base.

26. Play: B1 touches a pitch with his bat. Ball then goes, (a) to the catcher's mitt after which it strikes his chest protector and rebounds into his glove; or (b) direct to catcher's mask or protector and rebounds into his glove.

Ruling: In (a), it is a foul tip and procedure is the same as for any strike which is caught. In (b), it is not a catch but is the same as an uncaught foul.

THE FLYING DUTCHMAN

year. Our thanks go to U. of L.'s Harold Pike for telling us about Dickie Coop.

When the State Tournament is over the deadline is at hand for getting in your recommendations for the Game Guy of 1955 who will receive the Flying Dutchman plaque at our annual K.H.S.A.A. dinner in April. Right now the Dutchman is getting ready for a circuit of high school commencement speeches and that trip "DeLuxe Style" to Lexington. See you there!

Kentucky Federation of High School Girls Sports Associations

By Martha G. Carr

We promised in last month's issue of the High School Athlete to discuss with you the program for girls athletics which should be started after you have gotten your Girls Sports Association organized in your own school.

When the G.S.A. program is being planned, it is necessary to take into consideration the required and elective physical education programs, the time and facilities available and the community facilities. These factors vary so much that no one program can be suggested which is ideal for all situations. Generally speaking, the program should be varied and interesting and should offer opportunities for participation to the physically handicapped and those of limited ability as well as to those skilled in sports and athletic activities. In planning the program, provision should be made for business and social meetings, the activity program and for special events.

Business Meetings

Regular business meetings should be scheduled with definite programs planned for them. In some large schools where the activity program is conducted exclusively through the physical education classes, the G.S.A. may meet twice a month for business and social reasons. In small schools where there is no activity program other than that conducted by the G.S.A., meetings may be held weekly with a minimum amount of time used for business.

Since most associations do not have enough real business to take up the full time, a speaker, movies, recreational games or similar programs can be planned. If the officers or board of control will meet before the general meeting and decide on the business which needs to be brought up for discussion, the meeting will progress more smoothly and more will be accomplished than if no previous organization has taken place. Try to bring up only the most important things and give time for discussion by the entire group.

The Activity Program

The activities which usually make up a G.S.A. program include team sports, tests, rhythmic activities, self-testing activities, games of low organization, individual and recreational sports, outing activities and health education. A varied program should be offered; it is a mistake to concentrate on one or two team sports such as basketball and softball to the exclusion of all others.

Class periods, before and after-school periods, noon hours and time outside of school should all be considered when programs are being planned. Class periods usually should be used for instruction in various sports activities and noon and after-school hours used for competition in these sports learned in regular classes in physical education.

Teams may be organized through color teams, home room teams, class teams and groups of interested girls. Next month we will try to help you with types of tournaments that can be used in small and large schools. The boys' coach in the school can be of help to you in planning these if you are not sure how to do it.

Coeducational Activities

Many of the G.S.A. activities may be carried on by girls and boys playing together. This may be done through an informal type of activity when the facilities of the gymnasium must be shared by both boys and girls. Or classes can be organized for instruction in these activities which are interesting to both; such as folk dancing, social dancing, table tennis, badminton, outings and many others. Team competition may even be scheduled having an even number of boys and girls on each team. Volleyball is an excellent game for this purpose.

Here is a suggested list of activities for you to try: Ariel darts, Archery, Badminton, Basketball, Bowling, Checkers, Deck Tennis, Golf, Hockey, Horseshoes, Kickball, Tennis, Table Tennis, Shuffleboard, Soccer, Softball, Swimming, Track and Field, Volleyball, Hikes, Picnics, Parties, Dances, Camping, Bike rides, Hayrides, Skating, Co-recreation parties, Cook outs.

Spring Meeting at K.E.A.

There will be a spring get-together of all women teachers who are interested in the G.S.A. on Thursday morning, April 14, during the week of K.E.A. The meeting will be held at 10:00 A. M. in the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville. It is hoped that we will have a large group of you to help us get this organization under way. Do be sure to come, even though you have not as yet gotten your local association going. We will elect officers for the State Federation at this time and will try to give you all the help possible in a meeting of this kind. Then plan to stay on for the luncheon meeting of the Kentucky Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. We will have the national president of our association as speaker at this luncheon, so it should be a worthwhile day for all of us. Hope to see you there.

A Softened Outlook

as in

Athletic Journal, May, 1954, and the Washington High School Athletic Association,
May, 1954, Bulletin.

Someone once said: "On the timber line of the mountain, where the storms beat in full fury, we find the sturdiest trees, the hearty veterans of ten thousand blasts. In the hothouse is produced the puny plant that fades in a day. Adversity is hard to bear, but it tries the soul and strengthens it."

A short time ago we received a letter from a prominent New England coach who bemoaned the fact that the youth of today were spending their idle time riding around in automobiles instead of coming out for athletics.

We wonder if the shortened work week and numerous labor-saving devices have not softened us as a people? We wonder furthermore if this leisure attitude has not been passed on to our children?

The extremely high percentage of physical rejects in the recent draft statistics is, we feel, due in large measure to this mental attitude which classes physical exertion in the same category as work.

A clear illustration of our general softened outlook on life is to be found in one of the recommendations of the Educational Policies Commission. In their report on "School Athletics" they said: "More adequate health and safety protection is accomplished by avoiding play during inclement weather."

Mr. H. V. Porter summed up our thinking on the matter when he said: "There are certain to be a few rugged individuals who will wonder whether our effete society has reached the state where bad weather is a legitimate excuse for failing to report for work or to keep an appointment or for a doctor to avoid making a call or a pilot to leave the helm."

We are showing a tendency to develop a breed of hothouse plants that will not be able to endure the cold of Attu or the drenching rains of Guadalcanal. Our future survival may well depend upon a hardy citizenry as well as on adequate atomic bomb defenses.

Hit That Line

By Hollis C. Franklin

(To the boys who play on Kentucky High School football teams)

Some other fellow on the team
May be playin' way "off-side";
The breaks may be against you,
And the passes wild and wide;
Your team may be playin' rotten,
The referee not so fine,
But get in there! Hurry up!
And hit that line!

The man you're facin' in the game
May be husky, and rough;
The field may be slick and muddy,
And the luck you've had be tough,
But the game isn't over
Till the whistle tells the time,
So get down to it! Get 'em low!
And hit that line!

As you play the game called "Life,"
You'll find conditions 'bout the same.
There's always trouble bobbin' up,
As you try to play the game,
But just get down and fight 'em,
It will pay you every time,
To snap into it, get your man,
And hit that line.

Often luck will be against you,
And the whole works goin' wrong,
And there'll be no one on the side-line
To cheer you with a song;
But keep your shoe-strings fastened,
And the signals in your mind,
Quit your beefin'! Watch the play!
And hit that line!

The head-lineman's watching,
He's got his eye upon the ball;
The time-keeper'll give you warning,
You play the game, that's all;
But that's what you're there for,
So it's no use to whine,
It's up to you to play the game,
So hit that line!

Editor's Note: Hollis C. Franklin, Marion banker and member of the Murray State College Board of Regents, is a man of many talents. He is an outstanding church layman and worker with young people. It goes without saying that he is an ardent lover of sports.

The Flying Dutchman

It is James "Cap" Caudill of Atherton High School who joins the Parade of Game Guys and is the winner of the Game Guy Plaque of 1955. "Cap" Caudill and Coach Junie Jones of Atherton, who took such an interest in the physically handicapped youngster, can be justly proud of this honor which was nationally recognized in Sports Review as one of the finest achievements which can come to a Kentucky high school athlete.

Take a look at the achievements of this fighting lad whose right arm is only three-quarters its normal length and is so poorly developed that the same condition would have discouraged many young men of less courage. Couple this with the fact that "Cap" is only 5/8" tall, weighing only 140 pounds, and you will readily agree that the annual Flying Dutchman Award has to go to him for setting an example which inspires other young men, despondent because of handicaps, to keep carrying on the fight.

Here's the picture. In 1951-52 he played J. V. football, winning his letter and playing in every game. In 1952-53 he played baseball, pitching a no-hitter for the V.F.W. Post 3636 and having a record of four games won and none lost. The same year he played varsity football as a halfback and pitched on the Atherton High School baseball team. In 1953 he again had a perfect year as a pitcher, losing no games, and was given a try-out with the Little Colonels. Then in 1953-54 he turned to basketball and captained the Audubon Methodist Church basketball team which won the championship of Louisville.

The Dutchman doffs his hat to the Game Guy of 1955, Atherton's "Cap" Caudill, who showed the world that fight and determination plus a little encouragement from interested adults can make happy kids of handicapped boys who in turn render service by the inspiring example they set.

Now for some Kentucky sportsmanship which places Kentucky's high school athletic program on a sound foundation and causes it to be praised far and wide. Abou Ben Adhem certificates have gone to Jarvis Parsley and His Bracken County crew, and Maurice Jackson's Clark County gang on recommendation of Gene Neal who had to work the Brooksville-Clark County game alone when Bob Miller was unable to get there because of icy roads. Both Maurice and Jarvis took time to explain to their boys that Gene would have to work alone and to give him due consideration. According to Gene there has never been any sportsmanship anywhere to top the performance turned in by both Clark County and the Bracken County kids that night.

LaRue Sosh calls for an Abou Ben Adhem award to be sent to Louie Litchfield for outstanding sportsmanlike conduct in the Livingston County-Crittenden County game when his decision was the factor which caused Crittenden County to lose a "Blood and Thunder" game. It was Louis who was the first on the floor to tell LaRue that he had worked one of the best games he had ever seen, and that his kids and people could lose close ones on an official's decisions, without pushing the blame for defeat on the arbiter. You just can't top guys like Louie Litchfield, anyway.

Referee John Heldman wants recognition of the outstanding conduct of Simpsonville's Kenny Tingle who impressed him greatly throughout every close game he played in. Said John, "This kid knows how to take adverse decisions and be a man." So you Dutchman fans can see that in Kentucky it is not only sportsmanlike coaches and superintendents, but hundreds of tough boy competitors as well.

Bowling Green's Barkus Gray is in the sportsman-life-light. In fact, Barkus has been there ever since the Dutchman worked the first game of his officiating career for him at Brownsville in 1928 when this great guy was coaching at Woodburn Brethren. This Dutchman will never forget that night, nor two great fellows, Coach Gray of Woodburn and Coach DeMunbrun of Brownsville.

Back to Barkus, though, we want to tell you that he has won an Abou Ben Adhem for his Bowling Green school on the recommendation of referees Ralph Hobbs and Roy Settle. These two whistlers called H. B. Gray "tops." Ralph and Roy, working the district and regional tournaments at Bowling Green, never wanted for cokes, towels, soap, entertainment or anything. Barkus simply stamped himself as "Mr. Public Relations of Kentucky."

Let's close on a wonderful tribute to Kentucky's officiating by Dean Eagle, Sports Editor of the Louisville Times, who said this to the Dutchman: "After watching officiating at the N. I. T. in New York and in surrounding areas, I am convinced that Kentucky's high schools have the best officiating I have observed." Brethren, Dean can say that again because, by overwhelming opinion, the officiating he saw at this year's state tournament substantiated his remark.

TABULATION OF VOTES ON HIGHEST RATED OFFICIALS - 1955 STATE TOURNAMENT

Listed below are the tabulations of votes on the twelve officials who received the highest ratings by coaches of the sixteen teams which participated in the recent State High School Basketball Tournament. Each coach voted on six Certified officials in the order of his preference, the official whose name was listed first by the coach receiving six points, the second official five points, etc. This is the method which has been used for many years by the Board of Control and the Commissioner in selecting State Tournament officials. The schools given below are not listed in order by regions nor are they listed in the order of the tournament bracket.

NEW ORGANIZATION

ing group from Henderson Barret was runner-up, and the Mayfield cheerleaders received honorable mention.

The cheerleaders were judged on the following: 1) Appearance—neatness and good grooming, 2) Ability to execute the yells, 3) Ability and effort displayed in control over own rooters, 4) Appropriateness of the choice of yells, 5) Conduct while in uniform, 6) Pep and enthusiasm displayed during the cheers, and 7) Sportsmanship toward opponents and officials.

Style of cheerleading was not taken into consideration in the judging. Six of the cheerleading groups were not eligible for the award because the Association had not received confirmation that the cheerleaders were being chaperoned during their stay at the tournament by an individual appointed and approved by the school authorities.

President Oakley and Berea Cheerleaders

Many favorable comments concerning the award were heard from individuals and from press and radio. It is the hope of the Association that this award will be an incentive for better cheerleading and better sportsmanship throughout the state.

Kentucky Federation of High School Girls Sports Association

By Martha G. Carr

We have good news to report this month. Memberships are beginning to come in now for our new association which promises to be one of the best steps forward for physical education in this state. The G. S. A. at College High, Western Training School, with Miss Betty Langley as Adviser, should have the gold star for sending in its school membership first. Other early registrations have been received from Bowling Green High, Walton-Verona High, Lafayette Senior High, Lexington, Bellevue High and Lloyd High of Erlanger. Welcome to the Federation and congratulations on your early start.

For those of you who are in the process of organizing your Girls Sports Association, you may need a little help in writing a constitution. Here are a few suggestions along that line. First, write out the purposes of your association. They might be stated somewhat like these:

1. Development of leadership
2. Participation in physical and social recreation
3. Improvement of skill
4. Provision of an intramural program
5. Provision for co-recreational activities

Next things to consider will be:

1. The name of your organization (It can be named anything which means the same as our state association)

2. Membership requirements
3. Financing
 - a. preferably by school funds
 - b. by approved money raising activities
 - c. by dues (if this does not keep some girls from belonging)
4. Meetings. What is the purpose of meetings? When will they be held?

5. Officers and executive council

6. Election of officers
7. Duties of officers
8. Point systems and awards
9. Amendments
10. By-laws

Be sure to start with a simple constitution, the simpler the better. Add things as they come up rather than trying to have a complicated plan that you can't carry out. Everything should be on a trial basis for the first year. Awards and point systems for awards should not be developed right at first. You may not need them to get participation from your girls. If not, you will find you have avoided a lot of problems and bookkeeping. Try to plan things that lots of girls can enter into rather than trying for just one or two teams.

Teams and Tournaments: If you can get a few teams set up this spring in any activity which they already know, you can start a small tournament and get lots of interest which should carry over to your program next fall. Here are a few pointers about teams and tournaments:

A. The organization of teams and the type of tournament selected for participation will depend on the interests of the girls, facilities, the size of the group, time available, and the activity.

B. The teams should be so organized that they are of equal ability and should provide equal competition for all teams. The teams may be organized in various ways:

1. A student-faculty committee may make the selection.
2. A student committee may make the selection, subject to the approval of the adviser.
3. Captains or sports managers may make the selections.
4. Class teams may be used.

C. Care should be taken that team membership varies for the different sports.

D. Tournaments should be planned so that the games are scheduled for maximum participation by all.

1. If time and facilities are adequate, the round robin tournament is the most effective.

2. If time and facilities are limited, a ladder tournament or a single or double elimination tournament may be used.

E. Some consideration should be given to the organization of non-competitive activities.

F. Activities should be conducted according to the standards and rules of the National Section for Girls and Women's Sports. All rule books may be obtained from the above mentioned organization by writing to their office at 1201 Sixteenth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Have You Tried This Game?

BATTLE BALL

Number of Players: 30 or less.

Playing Space: 20 by 20 feet at least.

Equipment: Balls of volleyball type. One net or rope.

Method of Play: Divide group into two teams. Give the players at least seven balls. The balls are to be thrown over the six foot net or rope. At the end of the period, three to five minutes, the side wins which has the smaller number of balls in its possession. Fun and activity increase in proportion to the number of balls in play.

This is a good warm-up game. You may want to make some "home rules" of your own. If you have a good game that works in your school, send it into me and we will print it.

Don't Forget!

We hope to see you at the first state meeting of the Girls Sports Associations—Kentucky Hotel, April 14, 9:45 a.m., Louisville. Then plan to stay for the luncheon meeting of the Kentucky Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. Luncheon tickets may be obtained by writing to Mr. E. B. Whalin, Department of Education, Frankfort, Kentucky.

MINUTES OF THE ANNUAL MEETING

The thirty-eighth annual meeting of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association was held at the Brown Hotel, Louisville, on Friday afternoon, April 15, 1955.

President Carlos Oakley called the meeting to order at 2:00 and asked Commissioner Theo. A. Sanford to call the roll of delegates. Fifty-seven regularly elected delegates or alternates answered the roll call. The following delegates were seated in the absence of the delegates or alternates from their respective districts: O. J. Allen, D. 1; James A. Pursifull, D. 51; James H. Powell, D. 52. The motion to seat the delegates was made by John Potter, seconded by Joe Duke, and carried unanimously.

President Oakley then presented to the assembly Supt. Robert P. Forsythe and Supt. Kenneth G. Gillaspie, elected recently to membership on the Board of Control for a four-year period to represent Sections 2 and 5 respectively.

C. A. McCray moved, seconded by O. J. Allen, that the minutes of the 1954 annual meeting of the Association, which had been sent previously to all member schools, be approved without being read. The motion was carried unanimously.

Commissioner Sanford then gave a report on the activities of the Association during the 1954-55 school year. Lyndle Barnes moved, seconded by Gene Wilson, that the report of the Commissioner be accepted. The motion was carried unanimously.

President Oakley stated that consideration of the proposals was the next order of business.

John Heber moved, seconded by Joe Caudill, that Proposal I, providing for the reduction in the number of basketball games which may be played in any season by a team representing a member school, be adopted. The motion was lost.

Gene Wilson moved, seconded by Joe McPherson, that Proposal II, authorizing the Board of Control to select, standardize, and purchase district and regional basketball tournament trophies, be adopted. The motion was carried.

John Potter moved, seconded by J. I. Tichenor, that Proposal III, providing that regional basketball tournament officials shall be selected by the Commissioner, be adopted. The motion was lost.

Lawrence McGinnis moved, seconded by Bruce Sweeney, that Proposal IV, providing that a "B" team player shall not be eligible to play on an "A" team during the same evening or session, be tabled. The motion was carried.

Jason White moved, seconded by O. J. Allen, that Proposal V, providing that a contestant shall become ineligible at the end of the semester during which he reaches his twentieth birthday, be tabled. The motion was carried unanimously.

John Potter moved, seconded by H. T. Cooper, that Proposal VI, providing that "twelve" be substituted for "ten" in tournament Rule XI, be tabled. The motion was carried.

Bowman Davenport moved, seconded by Irby Hummer, that Proposal VII, providing that "a bona fide student shall be one as defined and interpreted by the Kentucky State Board of Education in its accrediting standards," be tabled. The motion was carried.

After some announcements concerning spring sports had been made by Commissioner Sanford, President Oakley declared the business meeting adjourned.

The dinner meeting of the Association was held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Brown Hotel at 6:00 P. M., with approximately three hundred delegates and other school officials present. President Oakley presented new Board members Robert P. Forsythe and Kenneth G. Gillaspie. He introduced Dr. Ray O. Duncan, Dean of the School of Physical Education and Athletics, West Virginia University, who was a guest of the Association at the dinner; and President Edgar McNabb of the Kentucky High School Coaches Charity Association, who introduced other Association officers present. The date for the tournaments is May 25. However, this date may be changed by some of the managers if conditions require it. Principals who have not received their entry blanks should write to their respective managers for these forms.

The State Golf Tournament will be held at Fort Knox on May 31-June 1, and will be managed by Supt. Herschel Roberts.

1954-55 Annual Report

Four hundred forty-two schools joined the Association during 1954-55. This is thirteen less than were enrolled in 1953-54. One hundred ten schools had eleven-man football teams, and thirteen played six-man football. This represents an increase of three in the number of schools having eleven-man teams, and a decrease of three six-man teams since 1953-54.

Financial reports filed by the sixteen regional basketball tournament managers show total receipts of $90,549.81. This represents an approximate increase of $10,000.00 over 1954 receipts. Receipts in the sixty-one district basketball tournaments amounted to $149,200.74, a small decrease from the 1954 figure. Receipts from ticket sales at the State Basketball Tournament, exclusive of refunds, were $103,389.75. His talk was informative and interesting, and it was enjoyed by all present.

bership was 689, with about 80 of this number pay- ing their own dues. This number is not absolutely correct, as four or five memberships are duplica- tions, caused by individuals paying their dues after the district has paid them, or because of the loss of membership cards.

The membership total for the previous year, 1953-1954, was 686. For the current year, 1955- 1956, as of April 8, 1955, the membership was 622, with 613 of the members having their dues paid by their respective districts.

Three districts did not avail themselves of the membership service provided by the Commissioner's Office. They were: Fifth, Thirty-first and Thirty- sixth. However, individual coaches are being regis- tered from these districts.

It was announced that the coaches for the All-Star basketball teams, the East and the West, were to be: Goebel Ritter (Hazard), head coach of the East, his assistant, Stan Arnzen (Newport). T. L. Executive Board Meeting

Held in Lexington, March 18, 1955

As provided in the Constitution, the Executive Committee of the Kentucky High School Coaches Charity Association met on Friday morning during the State Basketball Tournament, March 18, 1955, in the squad room of the University of Kentucky.

Members of the executive committee present were: President, Edgar McNabb; Vice-President, Tom Green; Secretary-Treasurer, Joe Ohr; Sgt.-at-Arms, Estill Branham; and Manager of All-Star games, 1955, Bob Miller.

The purpose of the meeting was to make final selections and to check all data relative to football squad members of the East and West teams. Coach Roy King of the East and Coach Ed Rutledge of the West reported that necessary arrangements had been completed, with the exception of meeting with members of the University of Kentucky coaching staff for their recommendations. This meeting was

The Flying Dutchman

There never has been a Game Guy Plaque winner who has received a greater ovation than James "Cap" Caudill did when he walked up to the speakers' table to receive his award at the K.H.S.A.A. dinner during K.E.A.

Every man present stood up in tribute to a kid who overcame a tough physical handicap to participate in athletics like other youngsters with all of their facilities. Present to see "Cap" honored were Larry Caudill, his dad and a Louisville Times sports writer, and his brother, Charlie, who is connected with Eastern Airlines.

Probably a unique example was set by "Cap" since he is one of the two Game Guy champions who has gone on to college to continue his participation in sports. Oral Miller, a previous winner, continued his wrestling career in college despite his blindness, while "Cap" is currently playing baseball with Centre College.

"Cap" was delayed getting to the dinner because he was in Florida with the Centre nine. He forsook bus transportation back with the team to grab a plane and be on hand for his big night. Jack Dawson, a member of the Board of Control, did a masterful job in the presentation of the Flying Dutchman Award to this fighting lad.

Kentucky's Game Guys are becoming the talk of athletic circles of the nation and certainly have become one of the Commonwealth's finest traditions in high school sports. The Dutchman salutes "Cap" Caudill and all those young fighting athletes who refuse to let handicaps get them down.

Indiana's Commissioner of Athletics, L. V. Phillips, won the hearts of Kentucky's school men, coaches and officials with a down-to-earth, common sense talk which has to go down in the history of these annual dinners as not only one of the best but one of the most timely and worthwhile.

Commissioner Phillips' philosophy of the administration of athletics is sound as a dollar. It is easy to understand, after listening to some of the problems he discussed, why the life of a commissioner of high school athletics can never be a "bed of roses." The administration of high school athletics in anybody's state calls for courage few possess. Take it from the Dutchman that the three commissioners he has met are terrific examples for all athletics administrators to pattern from. My reference is to Lyle Quinn, of Iowa, L. V. Phillips of Indiana and our own Ted Sanford.

In 1942 the Flying Dutchman started his travels over Kentucky conducting clinics for officials. Each year he has learned much from the chaps he is supposed to teach, and each year it has been a little more fun as other states extended invitations for him to conduct clinics and have the opportunities to meet more swell people. During these thirteen years the Dutchman has worked in ten states with officials in clinics but this year of 1955 holds for him the greatest thrill of all.

On September 24 your Dutch reporter will head for Indianapolis to conduct the annual basketball clinic for Indiana high school officials at the Lincoln Hotel. Indiana brings in representative officials from all of the associations of the state for the all-day session and they, in turn, go back to their areas to teach as they were taught.

For years this clinic has been superbly done by the renowned H. V. Porter, but this time he asked Commissioner Phillips and his assistant, Bob Hinshaw, to "pass the torch" on to another interpreter, and those gentlemen pitched it south across the Ohio River.

You Kentuckians, who have never been to one of those all-day Indiana sessions, just cannot know what enjoyable occasions they are. The finest fellows you will ever meet anywhere blow whistles in the Hoosier state. So you see that it is small wonder that we look forward with a lot of pleasant anticipation to the Indiana high school clinic this fall.

This is the Dutchman's last column until October. It is always a lot of fun to write it but it is even more fun to get the letters which come in or to see a crippled kid smile as he receives an award or to see the pride on a man's face when he receives a Corn Cob Pipe of Honor for just being a good guy to somebody else. Gotta pack now to catch an Eastern Airliner for Cuba to get things ready for the Youth Ambassador of Good Will Flight in June. Watch those kids write teenage history and read about it in LOOK magazine.

1954-55 BASKETBALL DATA ON POINT VALUE OF PENALTY AND POSSESSION

Part A—About bonus and double free throw penalties

1. In first 29 minutes: (a) Average number bonus penalty fouls: 13.62 per game. (b) Average point fraction scored from a bonus penalty: 1.5 per game. (c) Average number of fouls (1st 29 mins.) against a thrower: 21.5 per game.

2. In last 3 minutes: (a) Average number personal fouls other than those against a thrower: 2.25 per game (b) Average points scored on the 2 F. throws in (a): 1.62 per game. (c) Average number of fouls (last 3 mins.) against a thrower; 1.2 per game.

3. General: (a) Time from 1st whistle to final gun: 1 hr. and 10 mins. per game. (b) Time consumed by last three minutes of clocktime: 7 mins. 10 secs. per game.

Part B—About Value of Possession (separate record for each team)

Average recorded for only those games in which the score in the last quarter is close enough to encourage "keep-away" and reckless play by the team behind.

A possession unit begins when the team gets control and it continues until the opponent secures control. It extends through a try, rebound attempts, free throws by that team or any subsequent action up to the time the opponent secures control such as by interception or securing a rebound or control after a violation or successful goal. In a single possession unit, a team might score a field goal, be fouled and score 2 or more points on free throws, intercept a throw-in and score again.

1. In first 29 minutes: (a) Average No. possession units: 54.5 per team per game. (b) Number possession units in which the team scored: 2 points, 24.1; only 1 point, 1.9; 3 or more points, 1.1; 0 points, 27.4.

2. In last 3 minutes: (a) Average No. possession units: 6.3 per team per game. (b) Number possession units in which the team scored: 2 points, 2.2; only 1 point, 1.1; 3 or more points, .3; 0 points, 3.1.

U. K. COACHING CLINIC

to continue last year's highly acceptable plan of holding special football, basketball and track conferences throughout each day for interested coaches. The conferences allow the individual coaches to discuss special problems with the school lecturers at times when they are not talking on the regular clinic programs.

More than 150 high school and small college coaches attended the U. K. coaching school last year, and an even greater attendance is expected this year to hear some of the nation's most successful coaches give tips on coaching techniques and discuss the fine points of each game. Kentucky Athletic Director Shively, who serves as director of the coaching school, said copies of the complete schedule for the school will be sent to coaches throughout the state early in May. Registration for the school may be made by writing now to Shively in care of the University of Kentucky Athletic Association, Lexington.

Coach Wilkinson, who will be making his second appearance on the U. K. clinic program in five years, is one of the country's leading advocates of the Split T offense, and he holds a lifetime coaching record of nearly ninety per cent against rugged competition. Under the big Minnesotan's leadership, Oklahoma in the past seven years has attained virtually every honor in college football. The team holds the modern national record of thirty-one consecutive victories, and it had the best record in the country in '54, with ten wins against no defeats to finish third in the final polls.

Iowa's Evashevski joins a long list of notable coaches who have lectured at the U. K. clinic. He provides something new in a discussion of his variations of the multiple offense. He is remembered at Michigan, where he captained the 1940 team, as the blocking scourge of the Big Ten. In 1941, he entered the coaching profession at Hamilton College, and he later served at Pittsburg, Syracuse, Michigan State and Washington State before tackling the Iowa job in 1952. It was as an assistant to Coach Biggie Munn at Syracuse, and Michigan State that he first became interested in the multiple offense which he has since modified with his own ideas. Evashevski also is recognized as an outstanding defensive tutor.

Kentucky's contingent of Collier and Rupp again will share the spotlight with the visiting lecturers. Football chief Collier, a former Kentucky high school coach and one-time participant in the clinic, is in his second year with the Wildcats after a successful debut last season that gained him "Coach of the Year" honors in the Southeastern Conference. The ex-Cleveland Browns' aide plans to tailor his discussions to the fundamental needs of high-school-level coaching as requested by the coaches association. Motion pictures also will be utilized to illustrate methods used in actual practice and under game conditions.

Coach Rupp's talks will be centered around an explanation of the basic ingredients of teaching his particular brand of fast-break offense and other tactics used so successfully during his amazing 25-year regime at the University.

Assisted by Coach Harry Lancaster, Rupp will bring out time-proven suggestions regarding all phases of the game, from scouting to individual defensive assignment. He is expected also to cover the new rules changes.

the Association on the tournament should be approximately $80,000.00. A few tournament bills are still being received by the State Office, with the result that it is necessary to give an estimate of tournament profits at this time. A complete record of all receipts and disbursements will appear in a subsequent issue of the Association magazine.

One thousand eighty-nine basketball officials and 323 football officials registered with the Association in 1954-55. Nine football rules clinics were held under the direction of Dr. Lyman V. Ginger, and twenty-four football officials took the National Federation football examination for the higher ratings. The basketball clinics were conducted by Charlie Vettiner, as was the School for Basketball Officials. Mr. Vettiner held fourteen clinics. Additional meetings and clinics were held by the regional representatives who continued to render a fine service to the officials and schools in their respective areas. One hundred thirty-three officials took the basketball examination, with twenty-six being added to the "certified" list and seventy-seven receiving the "approved" rating.

Three hundred twenty-three schools insured their athletes under the K.H.S.A.A. Protection Fund this year. Three thousand, four hundred ninety-six boys were insured in football; 6,711 in all sports except football; and 193 in Physical Education. Six hundred thirty-nine claims, amounting to $13,724.89, have been paid to date. This figure is approximately $1,300.00 more than the amount reported a year ago for a comparable period of time. The Board of Control for 1954-55 gave each member school insuring its athletes in the Protection Fund a credit of $30.00. To date this free insurance has cost the Association $9,000.00, this amount having been transferred from the General Fund to the Protection Fund.

Two schools have been suspended from the Association this year, and one placed on probation. One suspension came as a result of the violation of K.H.S.A.A. By-Law 17, Practice of Sportsmanship; the other for violation of By-Law 5, Section 1, Maximum Number of Semesters. The school placed on probation was judged guilty of having violated By-Law 17.

Interest in spring sports continues to increase. Eighteen schools sent entries to the Swimming Meet, which was held in Lexington on April 2 under the supervision of the State Swimming Committee. The increasing of the number of track regions from eight to twelve a year ago has been one of the factors in causing more schools to sponsor track. The largest number of baseball teams in Association history will go to the forty district tournaments this spring. There are more tennis and golf teams each year.

1954-55 has been a good year for the K.H.S.A.A. Last July the State Office was moved to Lexington, a more central location. A new office building, modern in every detail, is now under construction. It is anticipated that this building will be completed within the next three or four months. The State Basketball Tournament set a new record in attendance and receipts, and the finances of the Association continue to remain in excellent condition because of the tournament profits.

If the program of the K.H.S.A.A. has been an expanding one, it has been because our school men have been most helpful when called upon to assist in directing certain Association projects and activities. Suggestions for the improvement of the Association are always welcomed by the members of the Board of Control and by the Commissioner.

G. S. A. News

By Martha G. Carr

The Kentucky Federation of High School Girls Sports Associations held its first official election of officers on Thursday, April 14, in the Kentucky Hotel, at Louisville. The officers chosen by member associations were: President, Miss Betty Langley, College High, Bowling Green; Vice-President, Mrs. Dew Drop Rowlett, Murray High School; Secretary, Miss Loyce Meadows, Bellevue High School; and Treasurer, Miss Robye Anderson, Bowling Green High School. With these very capable and enthusiastic officers, your organization should progress very rapidly.

Plans for future statewide programs were discussed. The possibilities of district Play Days and summer camps for all G.S.A. members received enthusiastic support from all those present. The state constitution calls for two members-at-large from each district to serve on the Executive Council. These representatives, one faculty and one student, will be appointed for the first year as new members come in from all eleven districts. There is still time for your school to get an association organized before the close of school, ready to start off in the fall. Any future correspondence should be addressed to Miss Betty Langley, College High, Bowling Green.

The Kentucky organization of the National Section for Girls and Women's Sports, a section of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, elected its state representatives for the coming year on April 14. Miss Elsie Sawver of Eastern Junior High School, Louisville, was chosen as State Representative to succeed Miss Dorothy Taylor. She will have Miss Peggy Stanalind of the University of Louisville to assist her as Chairman of the Women Officials Rating Board. This organization can give the G.S.A. lots of assistance through Sports Clinics and its many other services.

K.H.S.C.C.A. MEETINGS

members present to vote in the affirmative on Proposal Six and to vote negative on all other proposals brought before the Delegate Assembly of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association, which was to meet at 2:00 P. M. at the Brown Hotel on April 15, 1955.

McRight proposed that all coaches be required to attend the football and basketball officials' clinics. Tarry (Sedalia) moved and Bryant (Howe Valley) seconded that the above proposal be rejected. The latter motion carried.

Crowe (Oxford) moved that the Kentucky High School Coaches Charity Association go on record as recommending that all coaches attend an officials' clinic. The motion was seconded by Morgan (Butler) and was passed.

Martin (Bardstown) inquired about claims on injured athletes and President McNabb explained the procedure as outlined in the Constitution and By-Laws of the K.H.S.C.C.A.

Miller (Newport), manager of the 1955 All-Star games, asked that members send him suggestions for the improvement of the games.

Claiborne (Davies County), asked that a study be made on the possibility of high school baseball being played during the summer and that the State Baseball Tournament be played in August rather than in June.

The above question was answered by Commissioner Sanford, who said that the Association favors the plan, but since schools do not employ coaches for the summer, little could be done.

Martin requested that a study be made for the declaring of a State Champion in football. After some discussion it was agreed for a three-man committee to conduct this study and submit its findings to the next regular meeting.

Branham (Winchester) introduced Coach Ed Diddle, basketball coach of the Western Kentucky State College "Hilltoppers". Coach Diddle told stories illustrating the improvement of basketball and officiating. His talk was interesting and humorous. He stressed the need for the improvement of home conduct at basketball games.

Flora (Bellevue) introduced Blanton Collier, football coach of the University of Kentucky. Coach Collier announced the staff which was to appear at the Coaching School during the week of the All-Star games, and in a short informal talk praised the coaches of Kentucky for the excellent work being done despite handicaps of age and finances. He emphasized that the University of Kentucky is trying to improve football and basketball in Kentucky.

The following were elected: Edgar McNabb of Beechwood, President; Charles Combs of Hartford, Vice-President; Joe Ohr of Irvine, Secretary-Treasurer; and Estill Branham of Winchester, Sergeant-at-Arms. The officers will take office March 1, 1956, and will leave office March 1, 1957.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Joe Ohr, Secretary, K.H.S.C.C.A.

THE VALUABLE MAN

Some fellows stay right in the rut,
While others hit the throng.
All men may be born equal, but
They don't stay that way long.
There's many a man with gallant air
Goes galloping to the fray;
But the valuable man is the man who's there
When the smoke has cleared away.
Some "don't get nothing" out of life
But when their whines begin
We often can remind them that They "don't put nothing" in.
